ALBERT D. PEARCE CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Daniel Campbell Will Not Run Again for Union High Official

With the impending expenditure of thousands of dollars for the development of Glendale's school system the administration of local school affairs is of paramount interest to Glendale taxpayers and residents and the coming election April 10 of a member to the board of trustees of the Glendale Union High school is of utmost importance.

Daniel Campbell, well known Glendale resident and banker, who has served on the high school board for fourteen years, is the retiring member. Mr. Campbell's term expires with the coming election and he announced this morning that he will not be a candidate for reelection.

The problem now facing Glendalians is whom to select to succeed Mr. Campbell. At present there is but one person in view and that is Albert D. Pearce, attorney, and Glendale resident at 119 West Lexington drive.

Petition In Circulation

A petition indorsing Mr. Pearce's candidacy was being circulated today by prominent business men, who are enthusiastic over the prospects of having Mr. Pearce as Mr. Campbell's successor.

Mr. Campbell's service has been marked with devoted effort and consideration for the best interests of Glendale and Glendale's children and his influence has been seen in the growth and development of the present high school. It is with regret that school officials and patrons learn of his retirement from the board.

Mr. Pearce, who is a native of Michigan, is a graduate of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. He is associated in the practice of law with W. E. Evans in Los Angeles. He is a past exalted ruler of the Glendale Elks lodge and is also a member of other organizations.

Don H. Webb Takes Out Council Petition

A nominating petition for Don H. Webb, who has announced his candidacy for the City Council, was issued this morning by City Clerk A. J. Van Wie, who stated that the names of only sixty-seven registered voters were necessary.

Mr. Webb resides at 604 North Kenwood street and is the manager of the Glendale Hardware Company's store at 601 East Broadway. He is now serving his second term as secretary of the Kiwanis club. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Webb of 127 West Chestnut street.

ALREADY MARRIED

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—The declaration that he was already a married man when he was alleged to have proposed marriage to Violet Woodyard, a Long Beach governess, was the defense set up today by Burt W. Windiate to the $50,000 heart balm suit of the girl.

Oldest Scout Troop In State, It's Here, To Be Reorganized

THE oldest Boy Scout troop in California, Troop No. 1, Glendale, is to be officially reorganized Friday night, February 16, under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias lodge. The meeting will be held at the Magnolia avenue school on South San Fernando road beginning at 7:15 o'clock.

The troop committee, composed of A. H. Davis, chairman, E. E. Fram, M. J. Edwards and Robert N. Taylor, are expecting to be out 100 per cent strong, as will also the new Scoutmaster S. V. Jolliffe and Robert M. Searle, assistant scoutmaster.

The school authorities authorized the meeting of the troop in the Magnolia avenue school, and according to Mr. Davis, are going to put the room the scouts will have in excellent repair.

The reorganization meeting Friday night will be in charge of the troop committee and the troop officials, assisted by Scout Executive Harold Benner, who is one of the four charter members of this old troop.

The following scouts which comprise the membership of the troop are urged to be out to the meeting full of pep and ready to go. They are: Otis Aleshire, Herbert Bruck, Don Danner, Golburn Danner, James Ferry, Rex Loyhed, John Server, Robert St. Clair, Robert Sturgess, Wallace Haines, Charles Andrews, Alfred Seaman, Dan Nuckolls and Richard White.

STRAIN IN TURK CRISIS LESSENS

Allies Adopt Attitude of Conciliation, Seeking Final Peace Pact

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 15.—The situation at Symrna continued quiet today. Investigation by International News Service shows that there is no truth in the report cabled to the London Daily News that a French destroyer had been sunk at Smyrna by fire from Turkish forts.

It was reported here today that the allies are showing a more conciliatory attitude towards the Turks and that a final agreement may soon be reached to supplant the temporary settlement arranged a week ago.

Allied officials are said to have informed the Turks they are willing to enter into fresh negotiations whereby warships may remain in the Smyrna harbor, but in reduced numbers.

Relations between the allied naval commanders and the Turkish commander at Smyrna are strained, but have not been broken off. Communications are taking place between them.

GLENDALE C. OF C. ASKS GOVERNOR TO OPEN SHOW

Organization Urges State's Chief Executive to Come Here on May 25

Invitations have been addressed by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce to Governor Friend W. Richardson, asking him to be present and to perform the opening ceremonies in connection with the Merchants' Industrial Exposition and Automobile show that is to be held here from May 25 to June 3, and it is hoped that the governor's engagements will permit him to attend. Mayor Cryer of Los Angeles and a number of other prominent men will be invited to attend on the opening date and to take an active part in the exercises that are planned.

Two sites are now being considered by the committee in charge of the exposition, and a decision will be reached shortly, when the work of preparing for the exposition will be started in order to permit the erection of the necessary structures in plenty of time for the opening date.

Looks Over Acts

Harry L. Leavitt, the promoter, has his scouts at the Orange Show at San Bernardino looking over the acts that are being presented there, while other representatives of Mr. Leavitt are selecting the best acts to be found in San Francisco to help furnish the entertainment of the exposition.

The date that has been decided upon for the opening of the contest for Queen of the Pageant is February 25, when all of the tickets for the voting, and the ballot boxes, will have been made and all the details will have been completed by Mr. Leavitt and his lieutenants.

Boosts Proposition

In discussing the coming exposition before the Glendale Realty board yesterday, W. L. Twining, chairman of the publicity and advertising committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, declared that the project is the biggest thing that Glendale ever tried to carry out, and on its success will depend unlimited renown for Glendale, to say nothing of the other material benefits that will accrue to the city by reason of the holding of the exposition.

It is essential, Mr. Twining asserted, that every man in Glendale, irrespective of his business, throw himself into the project with all the enthusiasm at his command, to help in bringing it before the attention of his friends and acquaintances and to make the entire affair a success that will reflect nothing but credit on the fastest growing city in America.

PLAN PARTIES TO ATTEND THEATRE

'Arabian Love Story' Draws Fashionable Audience To Performance

Theatre parties are to be numerous tonight at the premier of the Glendale Community Players at the Glendale theatre, where they will present "The Hand of the Prophet—An Arabian Love Story." The performance will begin at 8 o'clock and there will be no advance in prices regularly charged by the theatre.

Among the theatre parties tonight will be one given by Hugh Blue, entertaining twenty-three guests; Mrs. Charles H. Toll, Arthur Kachel of Hollywood; Ellis Reed, manager of the Hollywood Bowl; F. J. Hamilton and Mrs. A. L. Rockwood of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Dearing of Alhambra; the Jeffersons of Pasadena; and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Learmont of Los Angeles.

Rich, brilliant costumes, artistic dancing and clever dramatic presentations promise to make the play an initial success for the players.

Aqueduct Unharmed by 85-Mile Gale, Reported

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Definite reports received today from Owens river valley revealed that no lives were lost in the havoc wrought by the 85-mile gale which swept the valley yesterday. The Los Angeles aqueduct was unharmed, according to William Mullholland, the builder.

Property damage totals hundreds of thousands of dollars.

P.-T. A. FEDERATION PLANS TO HOLD LARGE BAZAAR

Women Arrange to Conduct Affair at High School; Associations to Aid

Routine business occupied the attention yesterday afternoon of Parent-Teacher association members at the P. T. A. federation meeting in the cafeteria of the Glendale Union High school.

Of paramount interest to the women is the big bazaar they are to hold February 23 in the high school cafeteria. Mrs. L. T. Rowley, finance chairman of the federation, is general chairman of the affair, and at the meeting yesterday she told of the consummation of plans for the big event. She complimented the various associations for their enthusiasm and hearty co-operation.

Each association is to have charge of some feature of the bazaar and all money made over $300 at the bazaar will be allotted to the various associations.

Outlines Features

Features of the bazaar are in charge of: Acacia Avenue P. T. A., cooked food; Colorado Street P. T. A., hot dogs and coffee; Central Avenue P. T. A., aprons; Columbus Avenue P. T. A., candy; High School P. T. A., general store; Pacific and Glendale Avenue P. T. A.'s, pie; Grandview P. T. A., punch; Broadway P. T. A., ice cream; Cerritos and Magnolia Avenue P. T. A.'s, fancy work; Doran street P. T. A., candy; Intermediate P. T. A. will conduct the cake contest.

In connection with these features a collection of prizes will be awarded, among them being a $100 gas stove by the Wilson Bell Hardware company. The stove is to go to the woman baking the best cake by a recipe announced by the Wilson Bell store.

District Convention

Other events of the meeting yesterday were the appointment of Mrs. H. V. Henry as delegate and Mrs. A. H. Brown as alternate to the coming district P. T. A. convention in Los Angeles; a brief talk on Near East Relief by Dr. La Fontain; and the announcement of Mrs. Moore, president, that district dues should be paid by March 18 so that the Glendale associations will be represented in the National Congress of Mothers P. T. A.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, spoke, urging support of the $500,000 bond issue.

Tea and cakes were served at the close of the meeting.

Utilities Board Hears Franchise Application

The Los Angeles Board of Public Utilities yesterday afternoon heard C. D. Gulick's application to install and operate a double-deck motor bus system in the city of Los Angeles.

Mr. Gulick, who is the promoter of the Glendale Motor Bus company, explained the main features of his plan which desires franchises over more than fifteen routes in Los Angeles. Several of these routes were revised at the session. No action was taken on the application.

Clue to Bank Bandits Found in Stolen Car

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15. — With the bandit car used by the highwaymen who held up two First National bank employes Tuesday, after killing the driver of the bank automobile, in their possession, the police today redoubled their efforts to pick up the trail of the slayers. The car was stolen Monday from Fred M. Cox, who has offices in the Stock Exchange building.

The police today held the theory that the bandit gang is from Chicago or some other large eastern or mid-western city.

OPPOSES VERSAILLES TREATY REVISION

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Premier A. Bonar Law told the House of Commons this afternoon that he is opposed to revision of the Versailles treaty by the League of Nations. Great Britain, added the premier, is free to reopen discussion with the allies on reparations and war debts, "when the time is suitable."

BRITAIN TO SEEK BETTER DEBT TERMS

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Great Britain will continue to seek more advantageous terms for paying the British war debt to the United States, Chancellor of the Exchequer Baldwin announced in the House of Commons today. Everything now, he said, depends upon Britain's arrangements for redemption.

THREAT TO RECALL BRITISH TROOPS

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The British army of occupation on the Rhine will be recalled immediately if France insists upon taking over part of the area occupied by British troops, it was reported this afternoon. The cabinet is understood to have reached a decision in favor of withdrawal rather than maintain troops at Cologne where there is continual danger of a collision with the French.

FRENCHMAN SETS NEW AVIATION RECORD

PARIS, Feb. 15.—M. Sadi-Lecointe, famous French aviator, set a new airplane speed record today by flying 365 kilometers an hour in a 300 horsepower Nieuport machine. This passes the world's record of 358 kilometers an hour, made by the American aviator, Mitchell. (Reduced to English miles, 365 kilometers would be about 226 miles).

Francis and Frances Figure Largely in Wedding Certificate

VALENTINE'S DAY saw the marriage of Miss Frances Kadish of Hollywood to Francis Reichenbach of 1516 Gardena avenue at 6:30 o'clock last night in the chapel of the Riverside Mission Lnn.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kadish of 639 North Oxford street, Hollywood. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Reichenbach of Southern Glendale. An oddity is the fact that the first names of the bride's parents are "Francis" and "Frances," while the same is true of both the bride and bridegroom. The bridegroom's father's first name is "Francis," also.

A single ring ceremony was used. The knot was tied by Rev. Dean Kirchoffer, rector of All Saints' Episcopal church at Riverside. It was witnessed only by the parents.

The wedding is the result of an acquaintanceship of five years' duration which ripened into love about a year ago. Since that time, Mr. Reichenbach has been keeping Los Feliz hill warm with the wheels of the coupe, he admits.

After a short honeymoon the newlyweds will return to Glendale where Mr. Reichenbach has fitted up a new home at 1520 Gardena avenue, adjoining the home of his parents. As he is associated with his father in the operation of a cabinet shop at 421 West Los Feliz road, he made most of its furniture himself, he says.

FRANCO-BRITISH RUPTURE FEARED

Bonar Law Must Tell Exact Position of England in Ruhr Invasion

By FRANK E. MASON
For International News Service

PARIS, Feb. 15.—Minister of Public Works Le Trocquer, in his conference with Premier A. Bonar Law in London, will demand a "yes" or "no" answer as to whether Great Britain is going to aid or hinder France in the Rhineland and Ruhr, it was learned in semi-official quarters this afternoon.

The governmental and financial circles are anxiously waiting the outcome, for it is realized that a new crisis has developed in Anglo-French relations.

If England refuses to permit French military trains to pass through Cologne (trains manned and guarded by French troops), M. Le Trocquer then will ask that the map of occupied territories be revised and that the British turn over to the French the strip of soil holding the Dusseldorf-Drureen-Treves railway.

Pessimism Reigns

Newspapers supporting the government are pessimistic over the outcome of the London conference. "Pertinax," political editor of the Echo de Paris, accuses the British of encouraging German resistance in the Rhineland and Ruhr.

"Premier Bonar Law's speech in the British parliament was neither logical nor clear," said the Echo de Paris. "It encouraged the Germans in their resistance."

The journal, which is owned by M. Le Trocquer, declared that the trip of the minister to London was unnecessary. It added:

"The Rhineland high commission controls the British area as well as the French. Authority from the commission to run trains through the British zone is sufficient."

The Petit Parisien flatly warns the British not to attempt to meddle in the Ruhr nor to "mix up in the Ruhr at all."

Reeves Peeved Over Slight to Glendale

Displeasure was expressed this morning by City Manager W. H. Reeves over Glendale's lack of representation upon the newly appointed planning commission.

Appointments announced by the county board of supervisors include H. M. Pomeroy of Redondo, R. M. Allan, member of the Los Angeles City Council, and George A. Damon of Pasadena.

B. H. Holloway of Van Nuys represents the district of which Glendale is a portion. The fifth appointment has not been announced.

INTENSE COLD IN EASTERN STATES TO CONTINUE 24 HOURS LONGER

Snow Covers Many Sections Of Country; Steamship Sinking, Is Report

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—No break in the cold wave prevailing in all sections of the country east of the Mississippi river will occur within the next twenty-four hours, the weather bureau announced today.

The intense cold will be tempered by generally fair weather in the states east of the Mississippi, except in the lower lake regions where snow flurries are probable, the bureau said.

Steamer Sinking, Report

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The northwest gale extends far out to sea and today, according to wireless messages received here, had so badly buffeted an Italian cargo steamer that it was sinking. The vessel sent out desperate S. O. S. calls.

The steamer is the Moncenisio, with a crew of thirty-four. It left Norfolk February 11. Its wireless calls placed it at 510 miles east of Cape Henry, when the storm struck—about 700 miles from New York. The latest radio message said it could not hold out long.

Other radio messages were received from the American freighter Carpalaka, bound from New Orleans for Havre and Antwerp, stating that she had heard the Moncenisio's appeal for help, and at the time was seventy-seven miles away. Captain H. T. Smith, of the Carpalaka, said he had put about in spite of the storm and was making his way toward the Moncenisio at full speed.

The coast guard cutter Manning, now at sea, has been communicated with and also went to the Moncenisio's assistance. But it will take her nearly two days to make the sinking boat's position.

The Moncenisio is a steamer of 4,160 gross tons, 340 feet long and 47 feet beam and is in com-

GLENDALE'S CATS AWARDED PRIZES

Local Entries Win Premiums At Pacific Cat Club's Show in Pasadena

In the whisker count Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Pacific Cat Fanciers' club show at the Hotel Green in Pasadena, Glendale feline faces and meows were much in evidence and did not fail to win favorable recognition from the show judges. In fact, all Glendale entries were recipients of prizes.

Glendale fanciers represented were Mrs. F. S. Card of 370 West Patterson avenue; Mrs. T. L. McOmber of 1520 East Broadway; Mrs. William Weger of 610 East Orange street; Dr. Libbie Ashcroft of the Verdugo Cattery of 1125 Melrose avenue; Miss Clarabel Grim of the Matilija Cattery. Mrs. H. A. Davis of Eagle Rock also had a cat entered.

Mrs. Card's two-year-old black Persian Billikin won the first award in the black neuter class.

Mrs. J. L. McOmber's cat, Teddy Bear, won a blue challenge ribbon for the best short-haired neuter.

Dr. Ashcroft's nationally known champion short-haired cat, Champion Micheltorena de Verdugo, and her two kittens not only attracted much attention and compliments, but the mother won first prize for short-haired female.

Mrs. Weger's cat, Matilija Don Tuckito also placed first, as did entries by Miss Grim.

There were 200 cats entered in the show.

LOST LOVE SUIT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Declaring the love of his wife, Gladys, was stolen through the alleged enticements of another man, Harry Weiler filed suit in the superior court today against Charles A. Tweedy for $5,000 heart balm. The couple have a son aged 5.

Air Craft Delivers Medicine to Baby In Snowbound Home

RENO, Nev., Feb. 15.—After a father had tried for three days to break through snows to reach his snowbound ranch house with medicine for his baby daughter, Pilot J. L. "Hawk" Eaton of the United States air mail service, acted as an angel of mercy today, flew over the Barnes ranch and dropped the medicine that physicians hope will save the baby.

With Eaton in the cockpit of the mail plane was Samuel Barnes, father of the sick child. While Eaton piloted the ship to within a few feet of the ground, Barnes let out a string with the package of medicine tied on the end, waited until the ship sailed near the ranch house door, and then let go. A wave of the hand from Mrs. Barnes showed she had received it safely.

The ranch is situated near Silver Lake, fifteen miles north of Reno, and separated from the city by the Pea Vine mountain range. Barnes came into Reno during a snow storm. Mushing in, he saw what looked like a bundle of snow, investigated and found that it was a man. He shook him into consciousness and helped him to a Reno hospital.

BULLETIN!

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Grave fears were held in shipping circles today for the crew of between fifty and sixty men aboard the British ship Tuscan Prince as the hours went by without further definite word from her after her wireless failed early today in the midst of an S. O. S. message. She was then ashore off the treacherous Cape Flattery shore line.

The Tuscan Prince was the largest of four ships taken as the toll of a terrific north Pacific gale. She is believed to have been seeking the Nika, in distress, when she hit the rocks.

The Nika burned to the water's edge three miles west of Tatoosh island, wireless messages said, the latest reports saying her crew of thirty-five had been saved by the Tatoosh island life saving crew.

In all, the lives of 135 men were imperiled. The property loss of the ships and their cargoes was estimated at $2,500,000.

The Santa Rita, also on the rocks off Tatoosh island, was in a dangerous position, last reports said, and her fate also was in doubt. She carried a crew of thirty.

The crew of the Coolcha, wrecked yesterday, reached Vancouver safely today.

Sidney S. Gilhuly Is Candidate for Council

Formal announcement was made today by Sidney S. Gilhuly, real estate and insurance man, with offices at 1801 South Brand boulevard, that he is a candidate for member of the Glendale city council. There are two vacancies on the council to fill at the election in April. Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson says he is not a candidate for re-election. Councilman A. H. Lapham, whose term also expires, will be a candidate. The former councilman comes from the southern section of the city, the latter from the northwest.

"I believe that the southern section of the city should have representation on the city council," said Mr. Gilhuly today. "Friends have urged me to announce my candidacy, and I have consented."

Mr. Gilhuly, long a resident of Glendale, is familiar with the needs of the city. He resides at 342 El Bonito avenue.

Determine Boundaries Of School District

The grammar school board of education Tuesday night hopes to be able to pass the official resolution fixing the date of the approved bond election.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, is visiting the county surveyor's office in Los Angeles this afternoon in order to obtain final information in regard to the district's boundary lines. As soon as this has been obtained, it will be taken at once to the county counsel's office where the necessary legal papers for calling the election will be drawn. Mr. White believes that these will be ready before the next meeting of the board.

FOUR VESSELS GO DOWN IN NORTH PACIFIC; LARGE PROPERTY LOSS

Lives of Many in Peril as Gale Whips Sea; Entire Northwest Snowbound

BULLETIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Little hope was held out this afternoon for saving the crew of sixty men on board the British steamer Tuscan Prince which went ashore early today on Point Tuatsino, fifty miles north of Cape Flattery, on the Washington coast, in advices reaching Swayne and Hoyt, agents for the ship's owners.

The point at which the vessel hit is one of the worst on the coast, huge rocks rising out of the water there. The tug Monarch is attempting to reach the wreck.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—The lives of 135 men were imperiled today and shipping companies stood to lose about $2,500,000 through the wrecking and burning of four vessels in the northern Pacific.

The British vessel Tuscan Prince, which recently arrived on the west coast with cargo from England, was the largest of the four vessels taken toll by the heavy storms raging off the Washington coast.

The fate of the Tuscan Prince was in doubt. Radio reports were to the effect that she had gone down, with nothing known as to her crew. Her last radio message was never finished, her power having apparently failed in the midst of her S. O. S. call.

She carried a crew of between fifty and sixty men. Swayne and Hoyt, her local agents, had received no advices as to her fate after her wireless failed early today.

Burns at Sea

The Nika, which was reported in wireless messages to have burned at sea, was owned and operated by the Everett Packing Company. She was in command of Captain P. D. Johnson of San Francisco, and carried a crew of

HEAVY FIRE LOSS AT ARMOUR PLANT

Flames Break Out Again as Half Dozen Firemen, Hurt, Are Taken to Hospital

OMAHA, Feb. 15.—After a loss of between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000, fire, which has raged for twenty-four hours in the packing plant of Armour & Co., at South Omaha, was still smouldering early this morning, but is believed to be under control.

Local officers of the company said the damage "would not be less than $1,500,000, and might reach twice that amount."

The main packing house, a nine story structure, was gutted, and three smaller adjoining units were completely destroyed, with an $800,000 stock of cured and fresh meats.

Half a dozen firemen were injured in their fight with heat and cold. Among those sent to hospitals are M. J. Dineen, assistant chief, and Captains Michael Belitz and Thomas Casey. More than 1,000 Armour employes are out of jobs.

Fire broke out afresh today and ate its way to the fire wall protecting Units 20 and 21 of the plant. At 10 o'clock it was believed these buildings were doomed. The loss at that hour, officials said, exceeded $2,000,000. This is the worst fire in the history of the packing industry.

If the flames get beyond the fire wall, firemen say, the entire Armour plant will be wiped out.

Freezing and bursting hose and water plugs and a stiff wind are a severe handicap. The entire fire fighting force of Omaha has now joined in the effort to save the "packing town."

Council Bluffs, Ia., across the river, is holding additional apparatus ready for a call from Omaha.

Preparations are being made to dynamite buildings in the path of the fire.

Union High School Enrollment Shows Great Growth Of Glendale District

PROVES PROBLEM TO PROVIDE ROOM FOR PUPILS TO STUDY

Contractors Start Work on New Buildings and Expect to Finish by Next Fall

ALMOST 1825 students are now crowded together at Glendale Union high school in a plant which had a "peace time" capacity of about 500. Figures compiled yesterday by Miss Myrtle Pulliam, high school statistician, show that 229 pupils have enrolled since the commencement of the new term last week. Of this number eighty-seven are freshmen boys and eighty-eight freshmen girls while fifty-four are upper class students who are newcomers to Glendale. The total enrollment at the end of the last term was 1631 while there were twenty-nine in the midyear graduating class. The result is a present enrollment of about 1821 pupils.

"Of course, the high school is very crowded," remarked Principal George U Moyse, "However, we are trying to make the best of things. Education is too important to be neglected. We positively can't help these conditions and we are doing everything that we can to make the loss to the students as small as possible. Parents can't expect their children to get the same attention and benefit as under more ideal circumstances."

Where to put the incoming freshmen, who need especial attention and guidance in commencing their high school careers was a problem upon which Principal Moyse and the two vice-principals, Mrs. Ethel F. Moyse and A. L. Ferguson, found it necessary to concentrate their undivided attention just previous to the commencement of the new term.

"Finding places for those youngsters was like putting a jig saw puzzle together," commented Mr. Ferguson. Finally we managed to put each of them somewhere but we thought for awhile that we would either have to hang some of them on hooks or push the walls out a little bit to make room."

The only reason that it is possible to handle this number of students at all, according to Mrs. Moyse, is because of the lengthened day—which now runs from 7:30 a. m. until 4:15 p. m. She stated that it was resulting in both pupils and teachers being fagged out at the end of the day. She laughingly called attention to the desperate attempts on the part of the students to arrange their programs so that they do not have to report for the first two periods in the morning.

The high school cafeteria now accommodates or rather serves as a meeting place for classes in Spanish, Latin and English. During one period two different classes are in session there. This room is in the basement. It has a cement floor and a comparatively low ceiling. Pupils have no desks and must work on tables.

Pupils Have No Desks

The auditorium is being used as a study hall during each period that it is not utilized by the music department. The lighting in this room is far from the best. Pupils have no desks and all writing must be done upon lap-boards which makes it impossible for them to use pen and ink.

Special English classes are now being held in a small room in the southeast corner of the main building. This room is separated by sliding doors from the auditorium. When the orchestra or glee clubs are rehearsing on the stage it is very difficult for the pupils in this room to concentrate upon their lessons.

French classes are now meeting in the basement at the east end of the main building in a small room which was formerly the headquarters of the high school cabinet. It has a maximum capacity of about fifteen pupils at one time.

The art lecture room, which is equipped with easels instead of desks, is being used for language classes. Written work is impossible.

Even the kitchens of the domestic science department are now "infested" with students. Here the sinks are used for desks and the pupils are obliged to perch upon stools without backs.

A small room in the basement of the Household Arts building, which was formerly the kitchen to the teachers' cafeteria, has now been converted into a sculptors' workshop and it is here that the art of modeling is taught.

The model bungalow on the second floor of the Household Arts building is the meeting place of piano classes. This contains no blackboard—in fact, it was difficult to get a piano into the parlor.

"There is not a nook or a corner that we aren't using, "remarked Mrs. Moyse. "If we had teachers, who didn't have the respect of their pupils, the discipline would be unbearable. As it is, the faculty is getting along very well. Pupils have been wonderful in co-operating with us. They know what we are up against."

Even Utilize Rest Rooms

In order to give the department heads places where they may counsel with teachers on their staffs and pupils, each end of the second floor in the main building has been partitioned off. One of these so-called offices is used by the English department and the other by the science department. The mathematics and language department use the teachers' cafeteria.

Even the teachers' rest rooms are being utilized as consultation rooms. The rest room in the Household Arts Building is used by the commercial department and the one in the main building is used by the history department. A small kitchenette is being used as a cloak room by the teachers.

The old gymnasium in the basement of the main building, which was condemned several years ago by the high school board of trustees because of its ventilation, is now being utilized by the special gymnasium classes. Because of the lack of dressing rooms and equipment, pupils are not able to finish their exercise with showers.

Both the boys and the girls' gymnasiums are extremely crowded. Classes which should not exceed forty in number now have an enrollment of twice that number. Although pupils are given as much work on the track and field as possible, the interiors of these buildings are badly congested. Four or five girls are obliged to use the same dressing room, which was intended for only two, and the dressing room of the boys' gymnasium is like a bedlam. To complicate matters, no place can be found for additional lockers. Several students are obliged to use the same locker. This results in much confusion.

Every room in the shop building is being used to the fullest extent.

Meanwhile, both faculty and student body are looking eagerly to the completion of the new plant for Glendale Union High school.

Work is under way and the contractors have promised that it will be completed by September.

Report Progress in Financial Campaign To Aid Boy Scouts

THE Boy Scout campaign was boosted almost $4000 Wednesday noon at the Exchange club luncheon when the leaders of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Exchange clubs reported to the chief scout master, Col. James W. Everington, the progress of their patrols.

A spirit of optimism permeated the men, especially when A. L. Baird of the Kiwanis club, and Dr. Warren Z. Newton of the Exchange club told of not having a single turn down.

The patrol leaders will report again this noon at the Rotary club luncheon and it is hoped to make the thermometer raise up to the $6000 mark.

"The Rotary, Kiwanis and Exchange clubs have pledged themselves 100 per cent to get back of the Boy Scout campaign and with this responsibility resting on their shoulders the campaign is bound to go over with a bang," declared Dr. E. H. Parker, campaign chairman, this morning.

"There has been some 'laying down' of a number of men in one or two of the clubs, but most of the members, and especially the patrol leaders, feel honor-bound to make every effort to reach the $11,000 goal tomorrow noon," he added.

According to Col. Everington, the final reports and accounting will be made Friday noon at the luncheon of the Kiwanis club. "It is highly important," he declared, "for every patrol leader to check up the teams in his patrol and find out just what has been done. We haven't heard from half of the teams, and, accordingly, is makes it quite difficult to tell just where we stand. There's one thing certain, though," he emphatically emphasized, "and that is that if the Rotary, Kiwanis and Exchange clubs expect to put this campaign over by Friday the members have got to 'dig in' and do some tall old hustling."

Lee D. Childers Now Heads Grocery Store

The most up-to-date business principles are being applied to the retailing of food by Lee D. Childers, owner and manager of the Brandoran Grocery store, 543-545 North Brand boulevard.

Mr. Childers, who has bought out his partner in this enterprise, J. M. Stuckey, states that the volume of business is double what it was when they started last June, and that he plans to double it again, by carrying out his principle of "Every Minute Delivery," which spells for the busy housewife the vital word—service.

Prior to entering the grocery business Mr. Childers was for seven years a banker, serving three years as teller of the First National Bank of Glendale. The principles of economy and efficiency derived from this experience are what he believes have made and will continue to make his success in the new field. He has made a careful study of the problems involved in retailing food, and believes he has solved them.

Mr. Childers has so zoned and routed the city that he states he can fill any order and deliver it to the door, within fifteen minutes after the customer calls Glendale 2606.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating," says this enterprising and constructive young grocer. "If anyone doubts my ability to fill and deliver their order in a quarter of an hour, let them try me and see."

Students Save Books From Burning Library

VALPARAISO, Ind., Feb. 15.—Students of both sexes in Valparaiso university here wrapped wet towels about their heads and, choking and groping, carried most of the 25,000 valuable books from the library when a $75,000 fire destroyed the administration building today.

All male students joined in helping firemen handicapped by zero weather. The cause of the fire is unknown.

DRAW UP PROGRAM OF CIVIC WORK AT C. C. MEET

Organization to Decide on Course to Be Adopted To Aid Growth

What is expected to be one of the most interesting and profitable meetings of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce, held in many moons, is scheduled for Thursday night, February 22; at the banquet room at Occidental college. In announcing the meeting yesterday, President O. J. Root said he hoped every business man and all other citizens of Eagle Rock interested in the welfare of the city would make it a point to attend.

"We have come to the point where it is necessary to make a decision as to just what part in the growth of Eagle Rock the Chamber of Commerce is to take," said Mr. Root, "therefore it is highly desirable that a representative body attend. This question will be brought before the meeting and if possible some decision will be arrived at at that time.

"We expect a representative of a group who have made a specialty of membership campaigns to be present that evening and outline a tentative plan. Whether or not it is adopted will be left to the members themselves. At the present time there is some division of opinion as to just what is best to be done."

Several Addresses

A number of prominent men have agreed to address the meeting, details of which will be given later. These talks will be given during the course of the banquet, which will be held at 6:30 o'clock.

The Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce has arranged for tickets to the banquet to be sold at the following places. Plates will sell for $1 each: Eagle Rock Drug Store, Eagle Rock Daily News, Eagle Rock Sentinel and the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce, consisting of the following persons: O. J. Root, 269 North Satsuma; Dr. John C. Shedd, 219 West Colorado; H. G. Warren, 320 West Colorado or 156 Eddy avenue; Dr. Harry B. Crawford, 106 South Central; Alfred L. McCamman, 139 Royal drive; Mr. Maxson, South Satsuma; C. W. Jones, 238 East Colorado.

LEGION PRAISED FOR INITIATION

Officers of Glendale Post Proud of Comments From Comrades

Congratulations on the fine way in which the officers of Glendale Post, No. 127, of the American Legion, put on the work at Pomona post Tuesday night, continue to pour into the offices of The Glendale Evening News. A letter from Commander Al Persons says:

"Just a line to tell you how much we appreciated having the officers of the Glendale Legion over here Tuesday night. Enclosed are a couple of clippings from the Bulletin. I don't think you can say too much about the inspiration received by Pomona Legion men from the Glendale officers. The commanders of Upland, Ontario and Claremont were there and the remarks from them to me were gratifying enough to make me feel that the meeting went over 100 per cent, due to the Glendale bunch."

One of the clippings from the Pomona Bulletin, referred to in the above letter, states:

"The work put on by the group of men from the Glendale post was not only impressive, it was inspirational. It was the first time that the Legion ceremony has been used in Pomona for the initiation of candidates into the organization and without dobt the post will take steps to make the work a regular part of the program here."

Commander Chalmer D. Day, of Post No. 127, was deeply gratified to learn of the satisfaction that is felt in Pomona over the way his officers put on the work, as was Past Commander James F. McBryde.

"We want Pomona to feel," stated Commander Day, "that the inspiration did not all go from us to them, that we, too, received an inspiration, in the real pleasure they took in our work.

"One thing we realize clearly, from this and other meetings with Legion posts, and that is the value of the ritualistic service in building the American Legion into the position it is to occupy in the life of this nation. It is helping us tremendously and it is helping every post that is employing it, making better and more efficient comrades of us all."

Clearance Sale Will Continue at McGee's

Because of the inclement weather, R. M. McGee is continuing his clearance sale of winter goods, including a large line of men's, women's and children's shoes; also furnishings and dry goods, at prices that should prove most attractive. McGee's store is conveniently located opposite the City Hall at 614 East Broadway.

Gosh! Ain't It Grand To Live In Glendale!

While Southern California basks in sun shine so warm and skies so blue that parasols would be more popular than umbrellas, telegraph wires continue to carry frigid news from the northwest, middle west and east.

"Portland hit by zero weather," the key raps out, "Bitter winds follow snow along lakes," "Blinding storm buries Chicago deep in white," "Practically all westbound train service from Twin Cities cancelled, due to terrific blizzard," "Colorado submerged under heaviest blanket in ten years," "New York sloshing around in six-inch slush."

While in Glendale the temperature ranges from 55 to 85 degrees fahrenheit, dropping down to the former figure when the sun takes its nightly cooling plunge into the Pacific, rising again with the dawn and maintaining during the middle hours of the day a level that gives an atmosphere comparable to an eastern June, with resultant gorgeous growth of flowers, palms, ferns and all manner of fruits and vegetables.

For anyone getting a little too used to these things, an eastern trip in February is suggested as an antidote.

TERRIFIC STORM CLAIMS VESSELS

Several Craft Lost as Result Of Big Gale That Hovers Over North Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—The terrific storm which for two days has been hovering over the north Pacific, playing havoc with shipping, was feared today to have claimed two other victims.

Early today a wireless message was picked up from the big freighter Tuscan Prince saying:

"Ashore, breaking up badly."

The message broke off abruptly and it is feared her crew was forced to abandon her. Efforts are being made to locate the vessel. She left here Sunday for Seattle and is believed to have been somewhere off the mouth of the Columbia river when her message was sent. She is thought to have a crew of sixty aboard.

Calls for Help

An hour after the Tuscan Prince went ashore S. O. S. calls started to come in from the Santa Rita.

This vessel reported she had gone on the rocks off Tatoosh island on the north coast and was sinking rapidly.

Her desperate condition was indicated by the fact that nine S. O. S. calls were sent within a period of a half hour.

Tugs and coast guard cutters in the vicinity searching for the steamer Nika which at midnight reported she was being driven by the storm rudderless, rushed to the assistance of the Santa Rita.

A wireless message to the Radio Corporation shortly before 7 o'clock said the Santa Rita probably would remain afloat until aid reached her.

The Kewanee was reported rushing to the aid of the Tuscan Prince in this message and a coast guard cutter on its way to aid the Santa Rita.

The Tuscan Prince is of 3,293 tons and is operated by Swayne, Crowley and Mahoney.

The Nika is a wooden steamer in the lumber trade.

Complete Wreck

The wooden motor ship Coolcha which went ashore yesterday at Albert head near Vancouver island was today reported in wireless messages to be a complete wreck. Her crew of twenty was rescued by the wrecking steamer Algerine and taken to Vancouver.

Several ships which attempted to put out from Victoria and Vancouver were forced by the fury of the storm to put back. The Canadian steamer Princess Alice limped back to Victoria leaking.

The storm is said by the mariners to be one of the worst in many years in the North Pacific. Blinding snow accompanied it near the coast, making navigation even more difficult and dangerous. The wind reached terrific intensity, vessels reported, and they held their courses only with the greatest difficulty.

Damages Shipping

SEATTLE, Feb. 15.—One ship is wrecked, another is on the rocks and a third is reported afire, all on the Washington coast, according to wireless messages picked up by the Seatle harbor radio here this morning.

The steamer Nika, which, at midnight, reported herself rudderless, and at the mercy of heavy seas three miles west of Tatoosh, was reported as being on fire at 1:30 a. m. Since then, according to a wireless message from the United States cutter Snohomish, she succeeded in rescuing the crew of the doomed vessel at sea. She reported she was bringing the crew to Seattle.

The steamer Santa Rita wirelessed distress signals for about 45 minutes, beginning at 5:15 a. m., saying she was on the rocks off Tatoosh island. The oil tank steamer Kewanee hastened to the rescue, but nothing has been heard from these two vessels or Tatoosh island government radio since that time.

mand of Captain Guisseppi Bertilino. She took on a cargo of sulphur at Freeport, Texas, thence proceeded to Galveston and came up the coast to Norfolk, which she left, bound for Naples.

Coldest Since 1917

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Deaths, demoralized train service and property loss were reported today as the severe cold spell tightened its grip on the shivering west.

Two deaths were added to the toll taken by the cold wave in Chicago, where the mercury this morning was hovering at 5 below zero—the coldest since 1917.

Minneapolis, Minn., reported that region was experiencing the coldest spell since 1872. The mercury was at 15 below zero at 7 a. m.

The cold wave, according to reports, has swept the nation from California to Newfoundland, a few states in the extreme southeast being the exception.

Pacific coast reports were that Oregon, Washington and British Columbia are still in the grip of a blizzard. Ocean traffic was tied up this morning and the lumber industry was at a standstill. California's weather was reported as good.

The cold snap was broken somewhat in the Rocky Mountain region, according to despatches from Denver. The mercury rose to 14 above zero at 6 a. m. in Denver as compared with a four degree below temperature yesterday. Prediction that the mercury would drop to 10 below there today failed to materialize.

Seven deaths have been reported as the result of the storm in the northwest. Train service into Minneapolis and St. Paul is gradually being resumed.

Winnipeg dispatches reported a total of ten deaths directly due to a blizzard which swept western Canada.

Calgary, Alberta, reported 38 below zero and Prince Albert, Sask., was the low point with 45 below.

The central plains states were experiencing near zero weather. It was 10 above at 7 o'clock this morning in Kansas City.

New York Shivers

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. — New York shivered today in the embrace of Old Man Winter.

Riding on a 75-mile an hour gale, a cold wave swept from the northwest. This morning it was 12 degrees above zero.

With the coal supply at a low ebb, officials are concerned about the fuel situation.

thirty-five. Advices to the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce said her crew was safe aboard the tug Snohomish, but the vessel was a complete loss.

The Santa Rita, owned by Andrew F. Mahoney of San Francisco, carried a crew of about thirty men, her owners reported. She was believed here to have been seeking the Nika to give assistance when she struck on the rocks off Tatoosh island.

The wooden ship Coolcha, which went ashore yesterday near Vancouver, carried a crew of twenty.

Northwest Snowbound

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 15.—The entire northwest is still snowbound today but blizzard conditions have entirely subsided, reports indicate.

Near zero weather prevails in eastern Oregon and Washington. Snow in many places is piled two and three feet and has blocked highways and railroads.

A sixty-mile gale was reported off the coast at Astoria and shipping is menaced in general.

The worst storm in seven years abated about Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., last night when rain started falling. Fourteen inches of snow fell during the storm. Fifteen thousand loggers are idle pending melting of heavy snows in logging areas nearby.

City schools re-opened here today and street car and train service is normal. The temperature is around 14 and 16 degrees above zero.

THEATRES

The GLENDALE

The picture at the Glendale Theatre tonight is a Gareth Hughes "fun special," released by Metro. Readers of the Argosy-All Story magazine will no doubt remember a five-part continued novel which appeared therein a few months ago under the name, "Stay Home," and what a fascinating and entertaining story it was.

Well, that's it. Adapted to the screen and entitled "I Can Explain," it offers Gareth Hughes the best comedy vehicle of his career. The main reason is, it's human and has a kick. No more original amusing yarn could be spun, the twists in plot and action keeping the spectator guessing all the time.

The Community Players will present their play under the direction of Nanno Woods, as told elsewhere in this issue.

The T. D. & L.

Manager Ralph Allan announces another big Paramount preview at the T. D. & L. Theatre tonight. This picture is in ten reels and the cast is said to contain many of the biggest names in the industry. When released, this production will show at advanced prices. If the title could be announced, states Manager Allan, the T. D. & L. would not accommodate the crowds who would swarm to see it.

In addition, the regular program for today includes Thomas Meighan's "Back Home and Broke," together with a special two-reel educational comedy, "The Educator," featuring Lloyd Hamilton—a perfect knock-out.

This is a big show but regular admission prices will prevail.

SUCCESS ASSURED FOR NEW CHURCH IN EAGLE ROCK

Liberal Response in Drive For Building Funds Told by Teams

With the success of the drive assured, the Congregational people of Eagle Rock will build a new church edifice during the present year. While the drive is only about half completed it is evident the necessary funds are forthcoming to carry out the project contemplated. Most of the church people have given generously, some of them largely when their resources are considered. Even those with very small means have contributed no small sums.

This church will be a monument to the unstinted efforts of large hearted people who have in mind the welfare of the entire community. Being centrally located in Eagle Rock it will contribute largely to the public good as it is the purpose of the members to make it a social center for old and young alike, and it will be open every day in the week.

The six teams under the direction of the six captains, Mrs. E. W. Thompson, Shirley Allen, Mrs. J. W. Roach, Jesse Taylor, Mrs. Alice Winters, and George D. Hale have done and are doing splendid work in seeing many people who have the interest of the church at heart and the interest of the community as well.

A building committee will soon arrange for definite work in construction and the new building will become a realized fact.

Mechanic Injured as Auto Tire Explodes

The sound of an explosion near the northwest corner of Brand boulevard and Harvard street about 5:15 o'clock last night attracted some attention.

While blowing up a tire in the rear of the Automobile Tire Company's establishment at 143 South Brand boulevard, "Jack" Wheeler, an employe of the Dodge Agency, was struck upon one of his knees by the metal rim. This was dislodged from its place by air pressure. Mr. Wheeler was laid out for a number of minutes but it was found that his injury was not serious.

SELECT PLUMBING YOURSELF

WHEN you build, there are some things you MUST ATTEND TO PERSONALLY. The most important of these, IS PLUMBING. Don't let a general contractor do it for you. GO DIRECT to a high-class plumber. Consult with him in detail. Give full expression to your own ideas and ideals.

If you select the right plumber, you will find him intelligent, quick to comprehend your thoughts, and with a ready, sympathetic ear for your artistry.

No third party, be he general contractor or otherwise, is qualified to do this for you. It is a personal duty. It concerns the most intimate details of your daily life and in it is involved your health, your happiness, your success.

DO IT YOURSELF. Then you will be satisfied.

ADOPT PLANS TO ADVERTISE CITY

Glendale Realty Board Will Spread Campaign Over Next Four Months

Discussion of a four months' advertising campaign, to show the advantages of Glendale, was one of the main features at the weekly luncheon of the Glendale Realty Board at the C. & S. cafeteria yesterday, when W. E. Horn, chairman of the publicity and advertising committee, presented his report and urged that the organization get behind the project to run a series of full page advertisements in one of the metropolitan papers presenting the good points of this city and the surrounding country. Peter Hansen, another member of the committee, quoted figures showing that the cost of the campaign would run about $5500 for the seventeen issues as planned, allowing for a full page each issue. It was the sentiment of the members of the board that no reduction in the size of the proposed advertisements, smaller than full pages, should be considered.

A proposal made by W. L. Twining, chairman of the publicity committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, that the Realty Board should wait until the close of the coming Merchants' Industrial Exposition in May, when the Chamber of Commerce would be able to help finance the project and then co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce in advertising the city, met with opposition from the realty men, who decided that the effort should be made now to bring Glendale before the thousands who will attend the exposition, rather than wait until the season is so far advanced.

Committees to Meet

The publicity committee of the Glendale Realty Board was instructed to confer with similar committees from the Chamber of Commerce and the Glendale Credit Association, with a view to securing their support in the plan to advertise Glendale.

The selection of a site for a new federal building here, which is said to be contemplated, was discussed, and a committee will be named which will offer its assistance and co-operation to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson in the selection of a site on which the proposed federal building may be erected.

Sales this month under the multiple listing system amount to $111,000, according to figures furnished by the officials of the board.

ATTEND BANQUET OF U. C. ALUMNI

Distinguished Guests Feted At Elaborate Dinner in L. A. Hotel

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toll of 415 Kenneth road, were present Tuesday night at the banquet given by the alumni of the University of California to the governors of the board of regents; Dr. C. B. Barrows, the outgoing president; and Dr. W. W. Campbell, the incoming president.

The banquet was held in the Hotel Ambassador, Los Angeles, and was a very brilliant affair, over 500 people enjoying the fine fare and excellent after-dinner talks.

Campus Atmosphere

The "Golden Bear" quartet, brought down here from Berkeley for the occasion, added considerable color to the gathering with their singing of old-time popular college songs that recalled many memories. These songs, with the multitudinous blue-and-gold pennants and candles, recalled for an hour the atmosphere of the campus.

Mrs. Toll states that Guy Earl of the board of regents spoke of a decision made that afternoon to add a third year in letters and political science to the southern branch, U. of C. This, she feels, is the beginning of a movement, forced by popular demand, that will ultimately give the great southern capital a full four year course of its own.

Postoffice Receipts Show Steady Growth

The Glendale postoffice continues to show a steady growth in the receipts from the sale of stamps and from other sources of revenue, according to reports compiled by Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson.

The receipts for January of this year were $18,103.99, as compared with $13,613.18 for January, 1922, and $5130.77 for January, 1921.

Rector Plans Lenten Program for Children

In anticipation of the Lenten season, Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, has called a meeting of all parents of St. Mark's Sunday school children for tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Guild hall.

Rev. Kemp will confer with them on plans for the children's work during Lent.

$1200 COLLECTED IN SCOUT DRIVE

Budget Campaign Reports Presented at Lunch by Solicitors

Total subscriptions of approximately $1200 toward the Boy Scout budget were reported yesterday noon in the Citizens' building at the second campaign luncheon.

The Glendale Exchange club had as its guests solicitors from both the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs.

There can be no doubt as to the success of the drive, according to D. W. Pollard, field representative of the Boy Scouts. He stated that Burbank, Tujunga and Eagle Rock all expected to do their share. He admitted that the campaign had not really gotten under way yet in Glendale. He called attention to the fact that the only way to put this drive over the top is for all of the solicitors to get out and work.

Dr. Warren Z. Newton, chairman of the Boy Scout committee of the Exchange club, reported that this club has secured pledges amounting to $566. Announcement was made that the Kiwanis club has raised $415, and the Rotary club $175.

Interested In Boys

"This cause is one that we all agreed to get behind one hundred per cent," asserted Capt. D. Ripley Jackson. "We are all interested in the boyhood of America. We want to see good men follow us so that when we are throwing darts at the angels, the can step into our places."

Col. James W. Everington, assistant director of the drive, declared that Orange had oversubscribed its budget of $13,000 by $2,000, that Santa Barbara had raised $18,000 instead of $15,000, and that Glendale was expected to oversubscribe its budget, too.

Outcome Certain

A. R. Eastman, president of the Scout council, spoke optimistically in regard to the outcome of the drive. He intimated that securing pledges was no work at all.

ACTIVITY SHOWN BY CONTRACTORS

Work at Sparr Heights Is Rushed by Three Grading Gangs

Sparr Heights, the 1500-acre tract lying northeast of Glendale on the picturesque Verdugo road in the heart of the famous Verdugo valley, is now the scene of intense activity.

The six miles of four-inch iron pipe that is to be used as mains for distributing the water supply throughout the tract has recently been delivered and its installation has begun and is being rapidly pushed to completion, and when finished there will be a sufficient supply of pure mountain water to meet the needs of a community of forty thousand people.

Three Gangs Working

The $20,000 Community Centre building dedicated to the city of Glendale and the inhabitants of Sparr Heights by the owners of the tract, the cornerstone of which was laid with imposing ceremonies December 24, is well under way, and its mission arches are already assuming definite shape.

Three separate gangs of contractors are hard at work grading the roads and installing the curbs, gutters and sidewalks, while a gang of engineers are at work setting stakes to mark the boundaries and establish the grades of the curving boulevards that are to traverse the tract.

The Oakmont Country club has at last accepted a design for their club building and work has already begun on the site for the structure and the mammoth swimming pool which will be one of its most attractive features.

Start Golf Course

Work on the construction of the 18-hole golf course will begin shortly and be pushed rapidly and it will not be many months before its vivid greens will skirt the boulevard, adding another picturesque feature to this favorite drive. This course, comprising 120 acres, lies in the very center of Sparr Heights and will eventually be surrounded by handsome homes for which it will constitute a most attractive foreground and be the means of attracting many golf enthusiasts from Glendale, Eagle Rock and adjacent territory.

Several artistic homes are already in process of construction and plans for some twenty-six more pretentious residences have already been approved, the work on which will begin in the immediate future, and intense activity is in pronounced progress all over the tract.

It would never do, he knew to turn the animal loose too soon, since he would doubtless make his way back to camp, and in doing so would have to pass Rozales who would catch him. Time was what Bridge wanted—to be well on his way to Orobo before Pesita should learn of his escape.

Bridge knew nothing of what had happened to Billy, for Pesita had seen to it that the information was kept from the American. The latter had, nevertheless, been worrying not a little at the absence of his friend for he knew that he had taken his liberty and his life in his hands in riding down to El Orobo among avowed enemies.

Far to his rear Rozales plodded sullenly up the steep trail through the mountains, revolving in his mind various exquisite tortures he should be delighted to inflict upon the next gringo who came into his power.

CHAPTER XVI.

Eddie Makes Good

Billy Byrne and Eddie Shorter rode steadily in the direction of the hills. Upon either side and at intervals of a mile or more stretched the others of their party occasionally visible; but for the most part not. Once in the hills the two could no longer see their friends or be seen by them.

Both Byrne and Eddie felt that chance had placed them upon the right trail for a well-marked and long-used path wound upward through a canyon along which they rode. It was an excellent location for an ambush, and both men breathed more freely when they had passed out of it into more open country upon a narrow tableland between the first foothills and the main range of mountains.

Here again was the trail well marked, and when Eddie, looking ahead, saw that it appeared to lead in the direction of a vivid green spot close to the base of the gray brown hills he gave an exclamation of assurance.

"We're on the right trail, all right, old man," he said. "There is water there," and he pointed at the green splotch upon the gray. "That's where they'd be havin' their village. I ain't never been up here so I ain't familiar with the country. You see we don't run no cattle this side the river—the Pimans won't let us. They don't care to have no white men pokin' 'round in their country; but I'll bet a hat we find a camp there."

Onward they rode toward the little spot of green. Sometimes it was in sight and again as they approached higher ground, or wound through gullies and ravines it was lost to their sight; but always they kept it as their goal. The trail they were upon led to it—of that there could be no longer the slightest doubt. And as they rode with their destination in view black, beady eyes looked down upon them from the very green oasis toward which they urged their ponies—tiring now from the climb.

A lithe, brown body lay stretched comfortably upon a bed of grasses at the edge of a little rise of ground beneath which the riders must pass before they came to the cluster of huts which squatted in a tiny natural park at the foot of the main peak. Far above the watcher a spring of clear, pure water bubbled out of the mountainside, and running downward formed little pools among the rocks which held it. And with this water the Pimans irrigated their small fields before it sank from sight again into the earth just below their village. Beside the body lay a long rifle. The man's eyes watched, unblinking, the two specks far below him whom he knew and had known for an hour were gringos.

Another brown body wormed its way forward to his side and peered over the edge of the declivity down upon the white men. He spoke a few words in a whisper to him who watched with the rifle, and then crawled back again and disappeared. And all the while, onward and upward came Billy Byrne and Eddie Shorter, each knowing in his heart that if not already, then at any moment a watcher would discover them and a little later a bullet would fly that would find one of them, and they took the chance for the sake of the American girl who lay hidden somewhere in these hills, for in no other way could they locate her hiding place more quickly. Any one of the other eight Americans who rode in pairs into the hills at other points to the left and right of Billy Byrne and his companion would have and was even then cheerfully taking the same chances that Eddie and Billy took, only the latter were now assured that to one of them would fall the sacrifice, for as they had come closer Eddie had seen a thin wreath of smoke rising from among the trees of the oasis. Now, indeed, were they sure that they had chanced upon the trail to the Piman village.

"We gotta keep out eyes peeled," said Eddie, as they wound into a ravine which from its location evidently led directly up to the village. "We ain't far from 'em now, an' if they get us they'll get us about here."

As though to punctuate his speech with the final period a rifle cracked above them. Eddie jumped spasmodically and then clutched at his breast.

"I'm hit," he said unemotionally.

Billy Byrne's revolver had answered the shot from above them, the bullet striking where Billy had seen a pull of smoke following the rifle shot. Then Billy turned toward Eddie.

"Hit bad?" he asked.

"Yep, I guess so," said Eddie. "What'll we do? Hide up here, or ride back after the others?"

Another shot rang out above them, although Billy had been watching for a target at which to shoot again—a target which he had been positive he would get when the man rose to fire again. And Bill did see the fellow at last—a few paces from where he had first fired; but not until the other had dropped Eddie's horse beneath him. Byrne fired again, and this time he had the satisfaction of seeing a brown body rise, struggle for a moment, and then roll over once upon the grass before it came to rest.

"I reckon we'll stay here," said Billy, looking ruefully at Eddie's horse.

The latter rose and as he did so he staggered and grew very white. Billy dismounted and ran forward putting an arm about him. Another shot came from above and Billy Byrne's pony grunted and collapsed.

ARC SIGNALING METHODS

Back Shunt System of Arc Transmitter.

The essential units of the "back shunt" method of signaling are:

1. The back shunt circuit.
2. The back shunt relay key.
3. The Morse hand key.

During operation the arc is switched from the antenna circuit to a local oscillatory circuit by means of a suitable double contact relay key. The circuits employed for sets equipped with the "back shunt" method of signaling are outlined in the accompanying diagram.

When the movable contact of the back shunt relay key presses against the stationary contact which is connected to the antenna loading inductor the radio frequency current flows in the back shunt circuit and there is no current in the antenna, because it is then disconnected from the arc. The relay key is adjusted so that its movable contact makes connection with one stationary contact before it breaks with the other. This permits the arc to remain in constant operation while the current is transferred from the antenna circuit to the "back shunt" circuit.

The back shunt circuit consists of a resistor, inductor and a condenser, all connected in series. The resistance of the back shunt circuit is made variable so that the radio frequency current may remain at the same value whether the arc is operating on the antenna circuit or the back shunt circuit.

In practice the back shunt relay key is operated by an electromagnet, which is in turn controlled by a standard Morse hand key. When the hand key is depressed the electromagnet becomes energized and the movable contact of the relay key connects the arc to the antenna circuit. When the hand key is released a spring causes the movable contact of the relay key to connect the arc to the back shunt circuit. Current, therefore, flows in the antenna circuit only when the hand key is depressed.

VACUUM TUBE AMPLIFIERS

One of the earliest uses of vacuum tubes was in the amplification of detected radio signals. This type of amplification, commonly called audio frequency amplification, still remains the simplest and most popular form, due to the technical intricacies of radio amplification.

For those who cannot build their own sets for various reasons the illustrated instrument provides a very efficient equipment.

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad

TODAY—Congress may not accept the proffered gift of a palatial residence for vice presidents, writes George R. Holmes, Washington correspondent.

TOMORROW—The prohibition law is going to be enforced to the letter in Kansas from now on, according to the announced determination of Governor Jonathan M. Davis, reports Douglas G. Tinsley, Kansas City, Kan., correspondent.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Pity the poor vice presidents of these United States!

The job, take it from "Tom" Marshall and "Cal" Coolidge, isn't what it's cracked up to be.

It pays only $12,000 a year, which, considering the entertaining that goes with it, makes it almost a total loss so far as financial betterment is concerned. No vice president yet has ever lived on his salary, it is said.

Now comes a wealthy, philanthropic matron of Washington society, Mrs. John B. Henderson, widow of the late Senator Henderson of Missouri, and offers to donate outright, with no strings attached, a palatial mansion in Washington where the V. P.'s may live for ever more without seeing the rent collector once a month. Mrs. Henderson proposes to establish a home for the vice president, an official residence, and congress is getting excited about it and threatening to stop any such proceeding.

The home Mrs. Henderson proposes to give the government has just been completed. It is one of the most palatial and costly mansions in the capital, built of marble, containing many rooms. It is situated on Sixteenth street, in the heart of the fashionable residential section of the capital. It cost in the neighborhood of half a million dollars. Mrs. Henderson desires it to be a memorial to her husband and to her son, John B. Henderson II., who died recently.

She sets forth that it has long been somewhat of a disgrace that the vice president of the United States should be homeless in the nation's capital at a salary of $12,000 a year. Quarters appropriate with the dignity and scope of such an office cost almost that much alone in these days of high rent. And if congress will accept the gift, she sets out, vice presidents for all time to come will be spared the indignity of joining the army of house hunters in Washington and at the same time will be assured of quarters commensurate with the dignity of their job.

Congress, however, is hesitant about accepting. There are many who believe it would establish a dangerous precedent for the government to accept such a gift.

Also, it is pointed out by opponents of Mrs. Henderson's plans, it would take more than $12,000 annually to maintain such a place as the new Henderson castle. No single cook and maid-of-all-work could ever hope to care for its forty-odd rooms. There would have to be butlers, first maids, second maids, footmen and whatnot, and congress has secretly always rather enjoyed having the vice president "one of the folks."

If Mrs. Henderson's castle is accepted, it is pointed out, a poor man will be forever barred from taking the job, because he would have to live in the castle, and no one could do it on $12,000 a year.

On the other hand, those in favor of accepting the gift declare Mrs. Henderson should be paid the compliment and be given the thanks of congress for having thus solved a problem that has been troubling vice presidents since John Adams—where will the V. P. live and how?

In recent years the vice presidents have usually lived at a downtown hotel in the winter months and escaped from Washington whenever congress was not in session.

Congress is not always as dull as it may sound. Occasionally there are exchanges between "the gentlemen" on the floor that bring smiles and quickened interest. Biting sarcasm is more prevalent in the house than in the senate, to wit an exchange that occurred several days ago between two Democrats — Representative Bourke Cockran, the leonine orator of New York, and Representative Thomas L. Blanton of Texas, who narrowly escaped expulsion from the house some months ago for insertion of alleged objectionable matter in the Congressional Record.

The debate hinged about the eighteenth amendment, as it frequently does. Representative Blanton is very dry and is equally careless as to who knows it.

"My state (Texas) enforces the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments, all of them in fact," said Representative Blanton.

"Anything is possible in Texas," snapped back Cockran. "The gentleman himself proves it."

There was a roar from the house.

The shoeing of horses by driving nails through their hoofs was introduced into England by William the Conquerer. But even in the middle centuries horses were shod only on special occasions.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— By HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE FEATHERS

"Uncle Wiggily, will you have time to do a little errand for me?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy as the bunny rabbit gentleman was hopping out of the hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"Of course I will," he answered with a polite twinkle of his pink nose. "What is it you want done, Nurse Jane?"

"Please stop at the coop of Mrs. Cluck Cluck, the hen lady, and bring me some of her loose feathers," begged the muskrat lady. "She promised me some yesterday."

"Why do you want feathers?" the bunny gentleman wanted to know. "Are you going to try to fly?"

"Goodness, no!" laughed Nurse Jane. "I want some extra feathers to put in your bed. It's getting rather hard and lumpy—it needs new feathers."

"All right—I'll get them," promised Uncle Wiggily. Off he started to hop, wondering what sort of an adventure he would have, when Nurse Jane called again:

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily, feathers are very light to carry, you know, and perhaps you could do another errand for me at the same time."

"Of course I will—what is it?" asked the bunny.

"Bring me some molasses and I'll bake you a cake," offered

"That's a queer rooster!" said the Bob Cat.

Nurse Jane. "Here's the jug, and please have it filled with molasses."

"I will," said Uncle Wiggily, and away he hopped.

First of all he went to the coop of Mrs. Cluck Cluck, the hen lady, mother of Charlie and Arabella Chick.

"Have you any feathers for Nurse Jane?" asked the bunny.

"Plenty of them," said Mrs. Cluck Cluck, who was sometimes called that and sometimes Mrs. Chick, for she had married the second time. "There you are, Uncle Wiggily," and she gave the bunny rabbit a bag full of loose chicken feathers, some of which had belonged to the hen lady herself, some to Charlie and Arabella and some to Mr. Cock A. Doodle, the rooster gentleman.

"Oh, these are fine feathers, said Uncle Wiggily as he saw the bag full of them. "They will make my bed wonderfully soft."

Then he hopped on to the drug store to get some molasses. But when he got there the cupboard was bare—

Oh, what am I thinking of, I wonder? I'm so absent minded!

Uncle Wiggily didn't go to the drug store for molasses because they don't keep it. And the cupboard wasn't bare—that comes in another story—the one about Mother Hubbard and her Dog. The bunny rabbit went to the grocery and had his jug filled with molasses.

Then he began hopping home, with the feathers slung over his back in a bag, and the jug of molasses under one paw.

"I hope Nurse Jane doesn't make a mistake and put molasses in my bed instead of feathers," said the bunny to himself, and just then, looking down the woodland path, Uncle Wiggily saw coming toward him the bad Bob Cat.

"Oh, dear! How shall I get away?" thought Uncle Wiggily "I can't go down toward him for he'll catch me. And if I start to run away he will see me and chase after me. Oh, what shall I do?"

And then, all of a sudden, he thought of the feathers and the molasses.

"Ha! I know what I'll do," whispered the rabbit. "I'll smear some sticky molasses on my fur and scatter chicken feathers over it. Then I'll look like a rooster, maybe, and the Bob Cat won't know me!"

No sooner said than done! Stepping behind a bush Uncle Wiggily smeared himself with molasses from the jug and then sprinkled on some of the feathers from the bag. Oh, but he was a funny looking sight! Out from behind the bush he stepped as the Bob Cat came along.

"Have you seen Uncle Wiggily, Mr. Rooster?" asked the Bob Cat.

"No, I haven't," answered the rabbit, for, having no looking-glass, he had not seen himself.

"That's funny," said the Bob Cat. "I thought he was coming, but he's gone now! Well, I'll have to hunt him." And as Uncle Wiggily, with the feathers and molasses on him hopped away, the Bob Cat said to himself: "That's a queer rooster with four legs? I wonder if it's all right?" But it was too late then to chase after the rabbit, who went home, washed off the feathers and molasses and then how Nurse Jane and he laughed at the way he had fooled the Bob Cat.

But it all happened for the best; didn't it? And if the parlor mantel gets over being proud and will go out and sit in the kitchen to talk to the gas stove, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the baked beans.

That sharp, stabbing pain in the upper arm, about the shoulder blade, in the nape of the neck, along the forearm or down the thigh and leg, is often Neuritis—not Rheumatism.
If you have severe frontal headache with a feeling that something is twitching or pulling at the eyeballs—a dull, aching pain in the back, accompanied by an occasional shooting pain in the side — numbness or tingling in the fingers or "stitches" of pain here and there, the chances are that your trouble is Neuritis.
No matter where your pain is located, you can get prompt relief without taking bromides, narcotics or other dope. Just apply Tysmol over the part that hurts, and in a few minutes you will be rid of the torture. Tysmol is guaranteed harmless. It helps to soothe and heal the weak, inflamed nerves.

LIVING ON THE HEIGHTS

When you read in the society column of your paper (supposing you read such things) that Miss Margaret G., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair G., has just come out at a dinner dance given her by her parents in their beautiful home, do you think of Margaret G. as a very lucky girl, and perhaps have a twinge of envy and wish you might have come out somewhere besides coming out of high school to business college and out of business college to a busy office?

It wouldn't be at all strange if you did. And yet I wonder if she is to be envied? I wonder if there are not things about her position that make her life more of a strain in some ways than yours is.

If She Isn't Charming

The paper calls her "the charming daughter" because all girls who come out are charming daughters. But suppose she isn't charming, as she quite frequently isn't, is it any fun for her to be pitched into an existence of which matrimony is frankly admitted to be the object, and charm, of course, the most important means by which to attain this object.

A woman, whose daughter came out last year, said to her friends: "Jane will marry in her second season or else she will go into charity work." I see that Jane's engagement has recently been announced, just in the nick of time.

Woe Betide Them

Sometimes even the most charming girls do not find the right man in their first two or three seasons. Then woe betide them! They must either stay on to compete with this season's buds, go into charity work, or perhaps, if their families have money enough, be whisked abroad.

I know one such girl, charming and attractive, who cannot bring herself to marry the wrong man, and has not found the right. Because of family investments that have passed dividends, she cannot afford to go abroad or do charity work. She can go into business as social custom is making that legitimate. But if she does, she probably kills her chance of marrying a man of her own class. She cannot make up her mind what to do, she is restless, unhappy.

The Lucky Girl

How much simplier life is for the girl in the middle class. Nowadays she prepares, as a matter of course, for some kind of work. It is probably work which she enjoys. She can do it all her life if necessary and not lose social caste or be in any way regarded as a failure. But she does not expect to do it all her life. She expects to get married. Along with her business life goes her social life, the two, if she is sensible, kept in a wise balance.

If she marries, well and good. If she doesn't marry, it's the same. She isn't in the vastly uncomfortable position of being in a matrimonial race with the eyes of the world fastened on her.

Now, who, if they could choose between the two positions, would not choose that of the middle class girl?

WILL GIVE AWAY COOKING STOVES

Students in Home Economics Classes Have Chance To Win Ranges

The revolution of the art of baking by scientific heat measurement is what O. J. Merrill and Mrs. H. S. Border are taking pleasure in demonstrating to Glendale women who are enjoying the privileges offered in the home economics department at the Coker & Taylor store at 209 South Brand boulevard.

An added feature of the classes in the store laboratory is Mr. Merrill's announcement that during the current year six Direct Action gas ranges, equipped with Lorain heat measurers and valued at $87 each, will be given away free to members of the cooking classes.

A stove will be given away at the end of each two months. It is Mr. Merrill's plan that during the two months tickets bearing numbers will be awarded to the classes. Each member may have a number of tickets, the only requirement being that she write her name on the ticket, tear off the duplicate number and place the card bearing her name and number in a sealed box.

Will Award Stove

On the last day of each two months one of the class members will draw out the lucky number and the stove will be awarded to the woman holding the duplicate.

Through his study of modern stoves Mr. Merrill has become an expert on the art of baking and Glendale women are extremely fortunate in having at their command the Coker & Taylor laboratory under his and Mrs. Border's supervision.

Mrs. Border is in the laboratory all day every day, and in addition to conducting regular classes Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, she demonstrates any type of baking on request and is also glad to visit homes to give lessons.

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna Kent Forbes

A SUGGESTION

This is a suggestion that is really for next summer, but as it's rather a radical idea I'm giving it now because I'd like you to think about it this winter and decide whether to try it or not. You can try it in modified form now at home, but it's really most valuable in the summer time and in the country.

If you try it, you can greatly improve your hair and complexion—perhaps make the latter perfect, straighten your figure and make it young and supple again, and cure corns or such foot defects! That's a lot toward regaining a lost or a fleeting youth, isn't it. I'm assuming a whole summer in the country or at the sea, of course, and a cheerful disregard for other people's narrow opinions.

While you are away (please choose a quiet and unfrequented place) wear your hair flying free down your back or done into a loose braid. I want you to rest it, air it, let the sun reach it, let it be as Nature meant it. At the same time, massage the scalp and use a hair tonic daily.

Diet, eating green foods, vegetables, salads, fruits, drink milk, eat cereals, very little meat—this for your complexion. But use a cleansing cream too. Discard corsets entirely, wear loose smocks and skirts on an elastic. But walk and run every day and take waist bending exercises. So much for skin and figure.

Discard shoes and wear sandals. Leather soles that come for bedroom slippers are ideal, if you can't buy sandals. Sew a strap of gay braid over the toe part, where it won't rub a corn, and sew another strap around the heel, and from under the instep, ending in ribbons to be tied above the instep. Toes are free then and corns will simply vanish as the feet rest.

Brown Eyes.—The white spots on the nails are deposits of lime and are attributed to poor circulation in the finger tips. You can bleach them off by applying a paste made from pitch and myrrh, equal parts, or you can get rid of the tendency by improving the circulation through daily nail buffing.

Moles on the face should be removed only by a facial surgeon who understands such work. There is too much danger of leaving a scar for you to attempt this for yourself.

Peggy—Bleach the hair on your lip by using peroxide of hydrogen. It is an easier way to disguise this growth than to resort to shaving. If your skin is not sensitive use equal parts of peroxide and ammonia about once each week. This mixture has been known to weaken the hair so that it eventually disappeared, but never use it to the extent of irritating the skin.

TOMORROW'S MENU

Breakfast
Stewed Dried Peaches
Cereal
Codfish Balls
Coffee Toast

Luncheon
Stewed Prunes
Tea

Dinner
Baked Swordfish
Baked Potatoes
Beets
Coffee, Steamed Fruit Pudding, Hard Sauce

The housekeeper who has learned to make a good cream soup "basis" has practically learned to make any kind of cream soup. For the same basis is used for them all.

This basis is really no more than an ordinary thin white sauce, prepared as follows: Put into a saucepan one generous tablespoon of butter, and when this melts rub into it one tablespoon of flour. When smooth, add one cup of cold, sweet milk gradually, cooking gently as you add it. When thick, season with one-half teaspoon of salt and a pinch of pepper and let boil four minutes over direct, low heat.

Celery Soup—Wash and scrape celery, then cut enough of it into small pieces to fill a cup. Cook this over direct heat with one cup of boiling water and a slice of raw onion. When the celery is soft, in about five minutes, strain the liquid through a sieve and add this to the hot thin white sauce, or soup basis mentioned above, and serve very hot.

Cream of Potato Soup—Boil three large white potatoes in water to cover, with a slice of raw onion added. When tender, press through a sieve, not discarding the water in which it was boiled. Add this puree to the thin white sauce given above and serve after a few minutes of cooking.

Cream of Pea Soup—Open a can of peas and strain off the liquid from the can. Measure a cupful of peas and turn these into a saucepan with one cup of cold water; bring to a boil, let cook a few minutes, then press all through a sieve. Add this puree to a thin white sauce made as directed above.

Cream of Tomato Soup—Open a can of tomatoes and put a cupful of its contents into a saucepan. Add to it a small piece of bay leaf, a pinch of ground clove, and a slice of raw onion; bring this to a boil and let simmer a few minutes, then press the pulp through a sieve. To the straned part add one eighth of a teaspoon of baking soda (this neutralizes the acid in the tomatoes so that it will not curdle milk). Just before serving, combine this liquid with the cream soup basis given above, taking care to add the tomato liquid to the cream sauce slowly.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. S.:—You weigh 265 pounds. To carry that weight you should be about 7 feet 5 inches tall. As the average woman is five feet five inches tall, you would then qualify to travel with the circus as the tallest lady in the world. As it is, I suppose, you feel that you could qualify as the fattest lady in the world.

I cannot advise you about the other condition you mention in your letter. If you haven't the funds to go to a specialist then you must go to some clinic. High-class clinics are under the directions of specialists.

Mrs. A.:—No wonder you have indigestion and gas and feel terrible! You are fully 50 pounds overweight, and you say your diet consists mostly of starches with a little meat. If you will send for our pamphlet on reducing and follow it, there is no doubt that you will improve 100 per cent, as all of our other followers have.

Masticate your food very thoroughly. You will find that you will find enough in the diet we have outlined so that you can still omit the things that bother you.

Mrs. O. S.:—The slight trembling of your hands when you are a trifle excited or nervous at your youthful age means nothing at all if you are in the perfect health you say you are. Not thinking about it would do more to control it than anything else.

Mrs. H. P.:—We have an article on bed-wetting which you can have, providing you enclose with your request for it the stamped envelope already addressed to yourself.

Mrs. K.: — That's gratifying, isn't it, that you have lost 40 pounds of your excess weight. Now as to your husband's troubles. He is about 15 pounds overweight and that may account for his sleepy spells or it may not. It seems to me that he is in great need of a thorough physical overhauling by an up-to-date, scientifically trained and educated physician. Don't have him go where you suggested.

Mrs. M.:—Ulcers from varicose veins are very difficult to heal. Sometimes an operation removing the varicose veins has to be performed before they heal.

They have to be dressed once or twice a day and the entire leg up to the knee has to be snugly and evenly bandaged. Sometimes the rubber stockings have to be worn. Bathing in very hot water and then applying an antiseptic ointment such as zinc ointment or Lassar's paste seems to help with some.

One standard treatment is to touch them up with a little Balsam of Peru and cover them with zinc ointment or Lassar's paste. Sometimes an ulcer will heal quickly with dry dressings, using some of the antiseptic dusting powders such as iodiform, boric acid, subnitrate or subiodine of bismuth powder. Other cases will heal better with just the bathing in very hot water and the application of a non-medicated ointment such as vaseline or sweet oil, putting on enough to keep moist until they are dressed again. If your ulcers are very bad they probably will not heal until you can keep off your feet most of the time.

Mrs. B.:—It has been found that many of the disagreeable symptoms attendant upon the change of life are due to overweight. If you will lose your 30 pounds that you say you have in excess, there is no doubt that the symptoms you enumerated will be lessened. Send s. a. s. e. and four cents in stamps for our instructions.—Tomorrow, The History of Me by Me; Chap. XLV.

A Quarter Century Of Service

"If a man write a better book or preach a better sermon
or build a better mouse-trap
Tho he live in the depths of the forest
The world will beat a path to his door."
—Emerson.

25 years ago a small druggist—in a small town—discovered a new way—an "external" way—to treat colds. So Vicks was born.

And for a quarter of a century, in ever increasing numbers, the world has beaten a path to its door.

Until today more than 17 million jars go out yearly to serve the people of this land.

Avoid Influenza—Grip—Pneumonia

How to Apply Vicks to Help Avoid These Infections
How to Use Vicks in Case You Are Attacked

DEEP, grippy colds—frequently leading into pneumonia—have been unusually prevalent this winter. Some authorities insist that they are a form of influenza, not so virulent as the influenza during the first epidemic, though they are worse than ordinary colds.

Vicks As a Preventive.

Most medical authorities now agree that these troubles are germ diseases—commonly spread by breathing in the germs. If the system is in good shape—the membrane of the air passages in a healthy condition—these germs do not ordinarily breed.

Keep a little Vicks rubbed up the nostrils at all times, particularly when exposed to crowds. At night melt Vicks in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use Vicks in a teakettle as directed below. This treatment helps to keep the air passages in good condition.

The Danger Is From Pneumonia.

The chief danger lies in the development of pneumonia. What is needed, therefore, is something to decrease the congestion of the lungs. For this purpose there is nothing like a rubefacient or counter-irritant, as witness the use of blisters, poultices and plasters for many generations. This irritation reddens the skin—draws the blood from the congested parts to the surface; the circulation is improved; there is a sensation of warmth and the possibility of pneumonia is greatly lessened.

A "Quick" Rubefacient Needed.

The value of this counter-irritant effect is greatly increased if it is produced quickly. Nearly every family has its favorite method—onion poultices, turpentine stupes, mustard plasters and poultices of various kinds—all are good.

A very simple method is to apply towels wrung out in hot water, as hot as the patient can stand. This not only reddens the skin quickly, but also opens the pores so that more Vicks can be absorbed. Some, however, prefer to use an ordinary mustard plaster, as the reddening effect lasts longer.

Get Skin Thoroughly Red.

Whatever method is used, the application should be applied over the throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. In very deep colds, the sides and especially the back from the middle of the shoulder blades to a point just above the waist, should also be treated.

The patient should be given a good purgative and, if convenient, a hot mustard footbath for ten minutes—one tablespoon of mustard to a gallon of water.

Then Massage With Vicks.

After the skin is thoroughly reddened, it should be dried lightly and immediately the patient should be given a brisk massage with Vicks all over the parts. Continue this for five minutes. This increases the counter-irritant effect. Then apply Vicks thickly over all the parts; that is, spread it on as you would a poultice—about one-sixteenth of an inch thick or more—and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

Vicks Double Action.

Thus applied Vicks has a double action. First, Vicks is so made that the body heat gradually releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. The more Vicks applied, the stronger will be the vapors and the longer these vapors will last. The night clothing should always be loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel. These vapors being lighter than air, rise up from the chest and, if the bed clothing is properly arranged, pass by the nose and mouth and are thus inhaled with each breath, carrying the medication directly thru the air passages to the lungs.

The second action of Vicks is external—by absorption thru and stimulation of the skin.

Repeat Treatment.

When the vapors begin to lose their strength, fresh Vicks should be applied over the throat and chest. This to keep up the continuous supply of vapors. When the redness of the skin dies out, all the Vicks remaining should be wiped off and the entire treatment repeated. Thas is, the hot wet towels or mustard plasters should be used until the skin is again thoroughly reddened, then massage with Vicks, spread on thickly and cover with hot flannels, just as previously done.

Steam And Vapor Method.

Sometimes when the patient is badly choked up, the vapors from the application on the chest are not sufficient to make the breathing easier. In these cases drop a tablespoonful of Vicks into a kettle of boiling water and allow the patient to inhale the warm steam and vapors combined for about 10 minutes. Do this several times a day if needed. Keep the water boiling and put in additional Vicks whenever the vapors decrease. Put a sheet over the patient and the tea-kettle, making a kind of a tent.

Take no chances with these grippy colds. Remember, Vicks must be used freely to be effective—and always call a doctor.

The Short Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—An eastern entry will win the Kentucky derby again this year, in the opinion of Fred Burlew, one of the keenest judges of thoroughbred horseflesh in the land. Burlew was the trainer of the meteoric Morvich, and making use of methods that were decried as unorthodox, he brought the Block colt to his ultimate condition for the one big moment of his racing career—the famous derby at Churchcill Downs last May.

As a result Morvich just breezed through the mile and a quarter distance to an impressive victory and then, being a sprinter at heart, was beaten off badly in subsequent starts by all manner of inferior horses. In brief, the derby was a personal triumph for Fred Burlew. He realized that Morvich had only one good race in him at a distance and hence declined to send in the colt above a mile in training, in spite of unsolicited advice to the contrary.

So much for Burlew as a trackwise individual. His opinion in the present instance is not influenced by any particular partiality for the section of the country in which he now resides—merely by the fact that that section happens to be responsible for the colt he favors. The entry in question is Enchantment, of the Harry Payne Whitney stables.

"I believe Whitney has the next Kentucky derby winner in Enchantment," Burlew declared recently. "I will be sadly mistaken if he does not win, or, if by the time the race is held, he is not as topheavy a favorite as Morvich was. Of course, there are many others that must be regarded seriously. Sally's Alley is a wonderful filly and Messenger a great colt, but no filly can be favored to win the derby, and Messenger went wrong at Saratoga last year. Wilderness and a half dozen other colts may be strong contenders.

"At any rate," he added, "I do look for the winner to score as handily as Morvich did. As a result of sickness and accident there was no outstanding 2-year-old in 1922, and because of this competition will be all the keener in the 3-year-old division this season. It will only be a case of action deferred to an older class."

Be that as it might, we will say this for Mr. Burlew and his predictions: Picking winners at this stage of the proceedings is a precarious occupation. According to some experts on affairs of the hoof, five hundred things can happen from the paddock gate to the wire to prevent a horse from winning a race. If this be true only Mr. Burroughs and his adding contraption can do justice to the total of disasters that might befall a race horse between now and May 19.

Charley Ebbets Gets Players by Trading

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Charley Ebbets, owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers, announced today that he had traded Outfielder Hi Myers to the St. Louis Cardinals, and Pitcher Clarence Mitchell to the Philadelphia National league club.

In exchange for Myers he obtained Jacques Fournier, first baseman from the Cardinals, and for Mitchell he obtained George Smith, right hand pitcher, from Philadelphia.

"The deals were made on a straight player basis," Ebbets declared. "No money was involved. They are in line with my policy of trying to build up the Dodgers to the championship proportions of several years ago. We needed a first baseman badly, much worse in fact, than we needed Myers' services in the outfield. Fournier will fill the position for us satisfactorily. Mitchell had outgrown his usefulness in Brooklyn, and I regard Smith as being of more value to my club."

Pneumonia Knocks Out Featherweight Fighter

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Hughie Hutchinson, prominent featherweight boxer of Philadelphia, is dead in the Jersey City hospital, having succumbed to an attack of pneumonia.

A pound of gold is worth $248.08.

Kid Lewis to Defend Title in 20-Round Go

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Ted (Kid) Lewis will defend his British welterweight title in a twenty-round bout at Albert Hall tonight, only a slight favorite over Roland Todd, a clever boxer who carried Lewis through twenty clinking rounds to a disputed verdict some months ago. On that occasion many of the spectators disagreed with the official decision, awarding the verdict to Lewis. They thought Todd earned a draw at least.

Both men are in top form and the betting is at even money.

Babe Ruth Goes to Springs for Training

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Hungering for the feel of the old wagon tongue in his big, capable hands, Babe Ruth will leave late this afternoon for Hot Springs, Ark., to begin early training for the 1923 season, and an attempt to regain his lost home run honors.

"I am in far better condition now than I was last year when I did my training on Broadway," the Babe declared today. "I expect to have the best year of my career or admit that I have not got it in me."

"Von" before a German name denotes a privilege title, either inherited or bestowed by a monarch upon his subject for meritorious services.

OUTCAST'S BRAND ON DICKIE KERR

Hero of World's Series Is Placed on Baseball Ineligible List

By JAMES J. KILGALLEN
For International News Service

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—"Baseball isn't a sport—it's a business."

This from Dickie Kerr, famous "ineligible."

Sentiment in baseball? It is to laugh, says Kerr.

Here's little Dickie with a million dollar arm going through a few late winter gymnastics so he can open the season for the semi-pro "Chicagos" while the New York Yanks are dead anxious to get him. No sumptuous spring training trip. No great crowds after the 1923 gong rings. No glamour.

Outside the big tent!

Dickie, hero of the notorious 1919 world's series, is on organized baseball's ineligible list. Baseball is "through" with him.

Was Hero Once

Through with the little chap whose name and game thrilled the baseball world a short time back—the chap who proved he was "white" when nearly all his 1919 team mates showed they were "black." Kerr, it will be recalled, blanked the Cincinnati Reds with two-thirds of his club trying to throw the games.

He was a hero then.

"I guess they don't remember," said Kerr today, somewhat cynically. He added:

"But don't think your little friend Dickie is going to beg back. I'd like to play in the big show again, sure—but not with the White Sox.

"I gave the Sox my best. Almost pitched my arm off. Then what? They offered me a one-year contract. It was at $7,500—pretty good pay. But I wanted it made out for three years.

"You see, I wasn't getting any younger. I'd been pitching since 1911.

Up to Landis

"They said no. It was 'bad business.' So out I went—an ineligible."

The great umpire of baseball, Kenesaw Mountain Landis, has been asked by the New York club to give Dickie a clean bill of health—to let him come back without the customary one year's "penance."

Then Dickie might figure in on one of the biggest trades in baseball history—the deal involving Eddie Collins.

But Dickie's afraid not. He doesn't believe in "this baseball sentiment stuff."

He expects no leniency from organized baseball.

That's why he's studying electricity.

FANS ACCOMPANY LEGION QUINTET

Huntington Park Battle to Decide Local Team's Place in League

Transportation will be available for everyone who is planning to accompany the local Legionaires to the U. S. C. gymnasium tonight, where their five boys who have been trained in handling the pneumatic medicine-ball will do battle with the Huntington Park basket-ballers, for second honors in the league race—as a preliminary to the main event, which is a war of annihilation between Pasadena and Santa Monica teams, for the championship of the American Legion Basketball league of southern California.

The caravan will set out from the Legion hall, 610 East Broadway, in sections, between 6:30 and 7 o'clock, so be there between those hours—or rather, half-hours—if you want to join the crusade.

Charges False, Says Detective W. J. Burns

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—"The man is a liar and his charges are preposterous," declared William J. Burns here yesterday afternoon when informed of Albert Balanow's charges in Chicago that the Burns agency offered him (Balanow) a commission to go to Russia and poison the communist leaders of Russia.

Back in Old Job as Salesman of Realty

C. T. Benson, who has been employed this winter by the Page Furniture Company, has now returned as a salesman to the Glendale Realty Company. He has moved his family to a new home in La Crescenta. They arrived here last year from Mason City, Iowa.

Liberal Party Agrees To Arbitration Plan

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Both branches of the liberal party, in conference, have agreed to an amendment to King George's parliamentary speech, suggesting that the League of Nations arbitrate the Franco-German issue with the United States co-operating.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

On January 2 last the National Registration committee of the Amateur Athletic Union of the U. S. made the announcement that Joie Ray of the Illinois A. C. had been restored to good standing and that his suspension for a breach of rules had been lifted. Three weeks later, on January 26, Ray entered his first meet and set the fans' tongues wagging when he won a mile handicap in 4 minutes 24 2-5 seconds at Chicago.

Ray is unquestionably the greatest mile runner and the most consistent on record times that this country has ever produced. True he has not yet broken the world outdoor record of 4:12 3-5 made by Norman Taber in 1914, but he has run more fast miles close to this record than Taber or any other man. Ray's best mark in his world indoor record of 6 minutes 14 2-5 seconds made at Chicago in 1919.

His present startling list of performances made since January 26 is as follows:

Jan. 26—1 mile, 4:24 2-5, at Chicago.

Jan. 31.—1½ miles, 6:41 4-5, new indoor world record, breaking his former mark of 6:42 3-5.

Feb. 3.—1 mile, 4:19, at Boston.

Feb. 7.—1 mile, 4:17 3-5, at Newark.

Feb. 11.—1¾ miles, 7 minutes 59 4-5 seconds, world indoor record, breaking Bonhag's 8:10 3-5 made in 1910.

One and ⅞ miles, 8:34 3-5, establishes new world record.

Two miles, 9:08 2-5, new world indoor mark, breaking Bonhag's 9:11 2-5 in 1910.

Three thousand meters, 8:31 1-5, new world record, breaking Bonhag's 8:35 in 1911.

That is truly a startling set of figures for five races, but the most startling part of the figures is the indoor time for the two miles. The time of 9:08 2-5 by Ray aiso breaks the long-standing outdoor world record made by the world-famed Arthur Shrubb, the Englishman, in 1904. Nearly twenty years ago Shrubb ran the two miles in 9 minutes 9 2-5 seconds, and it remained to the diminutive and popular Joie Ray to break the mark on the indoor boards at New York.

That Ray is a genuine champion is best attended to in the fact that in the last seven years he has won the national mile championship six times—five of them in succession, and the other year, 1916, he won the national five-mile title. The only other man in national prominence who even approaches this record is George Overton, the former University of Pennsylvania miler who won the national mile title five years straight, and four years late "came back" and won it again, but his times were never the equal of the times in the championships that Ray has shown.

Ray seems to improve with age and there is every possibility that the little Illinois A. C. runner will smash innumerable other marks this season. He is preparing for a proper attack on Taber's world record in the coming outdoor season and judging by his present condition he never had a better chance of success.

LAUDS SANITARY LEAGUE GROWTH

Speaker Predicts Business Progress in Address Before Plumbers

Predicting an unprecedented era of prosperity and business progress for the southern counties of California within the next ten years, John W. Kemp, chairman of the publicity and statistical committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, praised the plumbing industry for the great strides it has made in better sanitation, at a recent meeting of the Sanitary Development league.

As evidence of the advance made by the industry he compared modern conditions with those of less than a century ago, when, in several states, bathing was prohibited by law. He stated that as late as 1848 Pennsylvania had a law which branded bathing as a work of the devil and set a penalty for violation of the ordinance.

"There is a brilliant future for the plumbing industry in Southern California, particularly in the territory we term the 'back country,' he said. "Your campaign to educate the public to a higher conception of sanitation, to show the economy and health advantages in the use of better plumbing materials and the highest grade of workmanship, is sure to get a hearty response from all thinking citizens."

Prevent Disease

"The chamber of commerce is back of every movement of this kind, for you are helping to build for coming generations, to insure our people against disease and the countless evils that come from lack of proper sanitation and the installation of cheap and low-grade materials."

F. C. Shilling presided at the meeting, which was attended by more than 200 representatives of the plumbing industry in Southern California cities. It was reported that Redlands and the Santa Monica Bay district have a 100 per cent membership in the league which covers every county.

Germany in Protest At Invaders' Orders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Plans of France and Belguim to prohibit the exportation of metallurgic products from the Ruhr to unoccupied Germany are "an open avowal of the fact that the occupying powers have not been able to bring success to the wrong done by the occupation of the Ruhr," according to a new German note to the French government made public here.

Discharged Employes Restored to Standing

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Seventeen of the twenty-eight officials and employes of the bureau of engraving and printing, who were discharged last year during an investigation of the alleged irregularities in the bureau, were restored to their civil service standing in an executive order issued by President Harding.

State Housing Bill's Publicity Cost $13,339

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15. — The Jones senatorial committee investigating election expenses on the November initiative measures temporarily laid aside the probe of the expenses incurred in connection with the water and power measure and took up the state housing measure popularly known as the "shingle bill."

A total of $13,339 was spent in publicity for the measure, said Mark Cohn, Los Angeles lawyer, from a fund of $14,770 raised for the purpose. Two manufacturers of roofing materials were the heaviest contributors to the fund.

Republicans Continue To Fight in Ireland

DUBLIN, Feb. 15.—Fighting between Free State troops and republican irregulars continued with little signs of an immediate truce.

While Eamonn de Valera, leader of the republican political forces, announced that he is willing to leave the future form of Irish government to a plebiscite, Free State officials said they were not willing to accept this proposal unless the republican irregulars first surrender their arms. So far there is no sign that the republicans will yield to this demand.

McCormick and Bride To Visit This Coast

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Traveling this time together, Harold F. McCormick, millionaire harvester manufacturer and his bride of two continents, Ganna Walska McCormick, have departed for New York. They were re-married Tuesday, making legal a previous ceremony effected in Paris.

They will remain in New York several days. Then Mr. and Mrs. McCormick will go to Santa Barbara, Cal., to visit McCormick's mother, Mrs. Cyrus McCormick. The Polish opera singer is to give a concert in Chicago March 5.

Suit Against Movie Star Awaits Verdict

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—The suite of George Edwin Josephs, New York attorney, to collect $36,000 from Pauline Frederick, stage and screen star, and the counter suit of Miss Frederick to recover $47,647 due her from Josephs for various reasons, were under advisement today by Judge Parker.

Miss Frederick claims she had employed Josephs to negotiate a contract for her with a local film company and that by accepting a fee from the picture corporation he nullified his agreement with her.

Cleaning Firm Adopts 'Small Profits' Policy

That the cleaning and dyeing business can be conducted along the same policies of any large, well organized business is the firm belief of J. W. Settle, new proprietor of the Peerless Cleaners & Dyers.

"The idea is that volume and small profits is the thing to be desired rather than large profits and less volume," he said. To create volume of business this enterprising establishment plans to concentrate their efforts on securing one particular kind of cleaning and dyeing each week.

Attractive prices much below the regular charge for similar work will be announced each week, as for instance next week is advertised in today's News as "Get Acquainted Week" and a flat reduction of 20 per cent on anything cleaned, dyed or pressed is offered.

Each succeeding Thursday the firm will offer a special price on some particular phase of their work, with the purpose of securing a large number of orders at a small margin of profit, but totaling a sufficient amount to make their plan profitable not only to their patrons but to the firm.

Section Benefit

An evening of informal pleasure is the promise women of the Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon club are making to club members and friends for the benefit dancing party they are giving Saturday night at the Pearl Keller dancing studio at 109-A North Brand boulevard.

The proceeds will be applied on the section's pledge towards the flat silver for the new club house.

Dance music is to be furnished by the Marion Jones five-piece orchestra.

Mrs. Walter W. Jones, curator of the section, and Mrs. Thomas H. Hudson, chairman of the ways and means of the section, are arranging the dance and they will be assisted by the following section members as hostesses: Mesdames E. C. Batz, F. S. Card, C. Cable, H. D. Lockwood, H. C. Vandewater, H. W. Ralston, Marion Young, J. E. Lyon, William Hunter, W. E. Halstead, R. K. Snow, S. C. Leppelman, H. L. Clatworthy, W. E. Evans, A. H. Montgomery, C. Kling, J. Waite, E. W. Kingsley and H. B. Howeth.

The regular meeting of the section will be Monday afternoon with Mrs. T. H. Hudson at 640 North Central avenue, when there will be a continuation of the study of "Romeo and Juliet."

With Mrs. Sheldon

The Women's Aid society of the Tropico Presbyterian church are to meet at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Alice Sheldon at 1253 South Central avenue. Mrs. S. E. Brown, president, will be in charge. All members who have had birthdays since last July are to bring birthday offerings.

Wed In Glendale

Miss Janet Lorimer arrived in Glendale Monday from her home in Scotland, traveling clear across the Atlantic ocean and the continent to California for her wedding to John Young Montgomery, brother of Mrs. William Cullingworth of 1023 Boynton street.

The marriage of the young people took place Tuesday night, February 13, 1923, at the Cullingworth home with Rev. W. E. Edmonds officiating. Mrs. Cullingworth attended the bride and J. Allen Adams served as best man.

Mr. Montgomery met his fiancee at the train on Monday and the wedding was to have taken place then, but, owing to the national holiday for Lincoln's birthday, they were unable to secure a marriage license.

A feature of the wedding was a large wedding cake, built of fruit and decorated with china cupids, which the bride brought from Scotland with her.

The romance of the young couple began several years ago in Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery are to reside at 1206 South Maryland avenue.

Valentine Party

Elaine Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Harrison of 545 West California avenue, and her cousin, Virginia Harrison, who is visiting in California with her mother, Mrs. Irene Harrison from New York, were hostesses last night at a jolly Valentine party.

The Harrison home presented a most colorful scene with the red and white Valentine colors predominating. Red carnations and violets were the floral decorations on the luncheon table and Valentines and red and white candy hearts were the place cards and favors.

Concealed in the centerpiece were small gifts attached to red ribbon streamers running to each place.

Valentine games and music entertained the company and late in the evening a Valentine lunch was served.

The guests were Dorothea Ungeheaver, Martha Jean Myers, Phila Bartlett, Eleanor Spelbring, Marguerita Anderson, Lucile Williamson, Lois Strother and Russell and Gilbert Strother, Gilbert Germain, Leonard Ertle, Kenneth Fisher, Lee Jaricol, John Lafton, Graham Traston and Jim Harrison.

At Farnham Home

A Valentine meeting was enjoyed yesterday by members and guests of Chapter L., P. E. O., with Mrs. Charles Farnham at her home at 316 North Louise street. Mesdames Lyda Border and A. M. Hunt and Miss Isabel Isgrigg were the assisting hostesses.

It was a pleasure to the chapter members to welcome Mrs. Evangeline Smith, Mrs. C. E. Byrkit of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Susie Dow, members who have not met with the chapter for some months. Mrs. Dow's friends are very happy that she is returning to live in Glendale.

Two state officers were special guests at the Farnham home, Mrs. Ollie Kramer of Los Angeles Chapter BQ, first vice president of the state, and Mrs. Labelle Townsend of Los Angeles Chapter AT, treasurer of the state.

Other guests were Mrs. H. V. Brown, Chapter CJ of Glendale; Mrs. Dove and Mrs. C. C. Cooper, Chapter BA of Glendale; Mrs. Charles Hubbard, Chapter VX of Omaha, Neb.; and Mrs. W. P. Graham of Chapter E of Monmouth, Ill.

Because of the illness of the president, Mrs. Letitia Lusby, Mrs. Genevieve Goss, first vice president, presided over the morning business meeting.

Quantities of yellow jonquils decorated the living room, while a Valentine scheme of decoration was carried out in the dining room.

At the noon luncheon the company was happily surprised by a large Valentine cake, a gift from Mr. Farnham. The cake was the work of Mrs. Bert Woodard and the icing was fashioned into yellow jonquils, purple violets and white hearts.

After lunch Mrs. Anna Goss, assisted by Mrs. Dana Burket, gave a program on the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States.

Over thirty-six women enjoyed the day with Mrs. Farnham.

At Country Club

Mrs. R. K. Snow of 609 North Maryland avenue, entertained this noon with a charming luncheon to a number of her friends, at the Sunset Country Club.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Warren Roberts, Mrs. Helen Sawyer, Mrs. Claude B. Andrews, Mrs. Mabel Rudy, Mrs. L. E. Gates, Mrs. J. Boettner and the hostess, Mrs. Snow.

Guests Wednesday

Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant of 1635 South San Fernando road, had the pleasure of entertaining as luncheon and dinner guests Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Fay, relatives of the family, who have just completed a two-weeks' engagement at a Los Angeles theatre. A most enjoyable day was spent with these talented artists, who expressed themselves as delighted with the singing of Albert Bryant, son of their hosts, who has made such a record in radio circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay leave today for Denver, Colorado.

Valentine Party

An attractive St. Valentine's day party was given last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walker, 523 North Central avenue, by their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Walker and a group of young folks.

The guests included Misses Alberta Plasterer, Mabel Podd, Stella Roberts, Helen Orr, Jean Ingram, Margaret Allewelt, Leona Hunt, Katie Standley, and Elizabeth Walker; and Homer Searles, Charles Beamon, Henry Grace, Leighton Taylor, Eugene Wernette, Carleton Walker, Kenneth Hellyer, Perry Townsend, and Glenn Walker, the latter of Burbank.

Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle was held yesterday at the Public Library with Mrs. A. A. Barton leading the activities of the day.

In the morning the women heard a discussion of "What Is Education?" by Ex-president Hadley of Yale.

After the lunch hour Mrs. C. H. Crawford read "The People Who Hanker After Learnin' ", an article from a recent magazine and Mrs. H. V. Henry continued reading from O'Shea's "Every Day Problems in Child Training."

A Valentine box was an enjoyable features of the meeting.

Valentine Affair

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Timmons, of 325 Road's end, were guests last night at a St. Valentine's day reception given by Dr. and Mrs. Calla Starbuck, in their beautiful Holywood home on Lucille avenue.

Thirty couples were received in the Starbuck salon, which was gorgeously decorated with hearts and streamers, tiny bright-colored balloons adding to the vividness of the room.

Refreshments were served at 11:30, with favors of valentines. Verses on parchment paper were also distributed.

Teachers Guests

Manager William A. Howe of the Glendale Theatre last night entertained the teachers of Glendale and their families and friends, at his playhouse, where Metro's big picture, "Peg o' My Heart," with Laurette Taylor in the title role, concluded its highly successful run.

Between 150 and 200 teachers were present, and with their escorts brought the number of guests up to above 300.

Club Holds Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Eustace Rowley of 464 West Wilson avenue were hosts last night at the regular bimonthly meeting of the Gloom Chasers' club. The first part of the evening was enjoyed in a game of progressive five hundred, after which the program consisted of music and dancing.

Guests Tomorrow

Miss Josephine Morse, who is appearing in a production at a prominent Los Angeles theatre, is to be a guest tomorrow afternoon at the meeting of the Drama Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club with Mrs. Chester Kling at her home at 720 South Maryland avenue. Miss Morse will be a guest of Mrs. R. E. Chase, section curator, with whom she was associated in theatrical work for two seasons in New York.

The club women will also hear a reading of Tolstoi's "Redemption."

WELFARE COUNCIL TELLS ACTIVITIES

Reports of Work Approved At Meeting of Board in City Hall

Mrs. E. D. Yard, president of the Welfare Council, presided at the regular meeting of the board Tuesday night at the city hall. Others present were Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, treasurer; Mrs. E. L. Young, secretary; and Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, director.

Reports were read and approved and plans were discussed for the working during the coming months. The report of work accomplished follows:

Home visits fifty-one; interviews at office thirty-nine; employment secured thirteen; families assisted twenty-four; new cases registered twenty-six; city order of groceries three. There has been an abundant supply of clothing received for men and women. There has been received six comforts, four blankets, four sheets, four pillow cases, nineteen towels, and canned fruit, vegetables, apples and potatoes.

Activities Shown

The articles given by the council supply were 593 articles of clothing, thirty-five pair of shoes, nine comforts, two mattresses, two sheets, eight pillow cases, five towels, baby buggy and comforts and layette, thirty-four Christmas boxes, canned fruit and vegetables.

WHAT?
GLENDALE BLD. PERMITS

Are you taking advantage of this wonderful development?

DO YOU KNOW

what is going on on San Fernando Road?

JUST A TIP

A $40,000 theatre; a $40,000 railroad depot; over ½ million dollars of residential lots being sold; over ½ million dollars of industrial sites being occupied and opened for sale; hundreds of homes under construction; business blocks being erected. There is a particular location in this

which is now very valuable and will rapidly increase in valuation

FOR A SHORT TIME

we have a lot 70x170 ft. with a two story bldg. paying $400 per month for only $40,000.00. $20,000.00 cash, located on the BEST SPOT in this wonderful, growing district. We can arrange most attractive terms for this property. It's a safe, conservative investment. Pays big now, and we think will double in valuation within 18 months. You can't go wrong in Glendale investments, but some are better than others. Let us show you this property today. We don't think it will be long open under present conditions. Call Mr. Page.

See us for homes, courts, duplexes, business blocks, business vacant, in fact any kind of real estate.

HE WHO HESITATES

—o—

Loses this home. Six, well-arranged, big rooms—living room, dining room, den, two bedrooms, kitchen, bath and screen porch. Two wash trays, hot and cold water in the garage, 14x18. Living room is large and has a real fireplace with a tile mantel that blends with the finish and paper. The den is a darling with a red brick gas mantel and a coat closet with built-in wardrobe. Bedrooms are large, conveniently arranged and airy. One has a full length mirror. The kitchen is big enough not to be too small, with all conveniences. Floors were given particular care. The lighting fixtures thruout are extra good with wall brackets in many of the rooms. All inside doors are single panel. Three coats of paint on the outside and four inside. Window shades included. Other places not as good are priced 2 to 3 thousand higher. $7,000. Terms.

BIRTHS

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Sturges of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, announce the birth of a daughter, Wednesday, February 14, 1923, at Coeur d'Alene. This is the first baby in Dr. Sturges' family and she has been named Elizabeth.

Elizabeth is the grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Sturges of 507 North Kenwood street.

The many local friends of Mrs. Joe Carter of Los Angeles, formerly Miss Helen Perry of this city, will be interested to learn that Mrs. Carter is the mother of a nine-pound baby girl, born Sunday, February 11, 1923.

It would take 1,340,000 barrels of powder to give a bullet the speed with which an electron travels.

DRESS OF BLACK SILK IS DESIRE

Aged Woman, Blind and Poor, Is Anxious to Secure Spring Costume

There is a dear little old lady, familyless, blind and without any means of support other than that of the county, and the one desire of her heart is a black silk or sateen dress. She doesn't live so very many miles away from Glendale and The Evening News is asking its readers to inspect their wardrobes and see if by chance they can't find a used dress that will meet the need.

"Grandma," as we are going to call her, is size thirty-six and as for her tastes, she just loves black if it has dots or stripes, but a plain black dress will do her nicely for spring wear.

Anyone interested in "Grandma's" happiness should call The Glendale Evening News office, Glendale 132.

Legionnaires Prepare For Saturday's Dance

Important changes of a practical nature are being made in the American Legion hall for the Legion dance Saturday night, February 17. Ample facilities for wrap-checking are among the innovations. Comrade Fortier, who heads the dance committee, is being ably assisted by Comrade Eddings in these matters, and in the decoration of the hall for the occasion.

A prominent orchestra, noted for the way it intrigues the feet, will supply the flow of harmony, and day by day, in almost, if not every way, the prospects for this affair to be a large success are getting better and better.

The price that will pass the men by the sentry-boxes is guaranteed not to be ruinous on the pocketbook, and women will be admitted into the fort free.

Autoist Wrecks Boy's Bicycle, Drives Away

Kenneth Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed M. Lee of 1115 Stanley avenue, today is on the warpath for the motorist who ran into the rear of his bicycle, smashed the hind wheel and mud guard, and then departed without stopping to ascertain the damage. The collision occurred about 7:30 o'clock last night near the intersection of Wilson and Glendale avenues.

Crash Knocks Spoke From Wheel of Auto

The intersection of Los Feliz and San Fernando roads yesterday noon was the scene of a collision between automobiles driven by H. F. Haverland of Burbank and A. H. Corse of Venice. Mr. Haverland was unable to prevent his car from breaking a spoke in one of the rear wheels of Mr. Corse's machine.

DEATHS, FUNERALS

ANDREW J. LARSON

Countless floral tributes from lodge members and friends were banked about the grave yesterday afternoon in Forest Lawn Memorial park at the funeral services for Andrew J. Larson, well-known realtor, conducted by the Hollenbeck lodge, F. and A. M. of Los Angeles.

There were thirty-seven floral pieces, fashioned from California's choicest spring blossoms, expressing the high regard and sympathy of fellow lodge members and friends.

Mr. Larson was a prominent member of the Hollenbeck lodge, F. and A. M., and a group of members of that organization served as pallbearers.

The deceased also belonged to the Los Angeles Grotto, the Royal Arcanun and the Woodmen of the World.

Kiefer & Eyerick were in charge of the funeral arrangements.

MAX MOSS

Funeral services for Max Moss, who was fatally injured and died February 9, 1923, near San Bernardino, were held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the L. G. Scovern chapel. Burial was in Forest Lawn. Rabbi Magnin of Los Angeles officiated.

MRS. LYDIA M. INGRAM

Mrs. Lydia M. Ingram of 1155 Irving avenue died yesterday, Wednesday, February 14, 1923.

Mrs. Ingram was born in Pennsylvania, January 26, 1856, and was 67 years of age. She came to California eighteen years ago and had resided with a granddaughter, Mrs. C. M. Striplin for the past year. A grandson, M. S. Buchman, lives in Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday, February 17, 1923, in the chapel of Kiefer & Eyerick. Dr. W. C. McIntyre of Santa Monica will officiate.

ERNEST A. MADDISON

Ernest A. Maddison of 1940 Gardena avenue passed away yesterday, Wednesday, February 14, 1923, at the age of 56.

Although born in Riga, Russia, Mr. Maddison had been a resident of California for the past fifteen years. A large portion of this time has been spent in Southern Glendale. He was a draughtsman by occupation. He was living with his daughter, Mrs. W. Lipp.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, Friday, February 16, 1923, under the direction of Kiefer & Eyerick in the Little Church of the Flowers.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Church Towers Inspire
Advertising Glendale
California's History
Good Things in Life

By Gil A. Cowan

ONE of Canada's most noble edifices, Old Trinity church at Montreal, is the fourteenth to be destroyed by fire within a year. It seems strange that minds can be perverted by religious fanatism to the extent of arson.

Yet in almost any community can be found sectarian jealousies that would not stop at arson. All of which is un-Christlike, of course,and savors of small mentality—so small, in fact, they should not be noted.

Churches should be regarded with a certain sanctity which should save them from vandals.

In Glendale there are many fine edifices being erected and their towers provide an inspiration to the home maker coming here from afar. A spiritual home on earth seems as essential as a living room in a residence.

Metropolitan sewage is becoming a problem for Los Angeles county. Great interest should attach itself to the work of Assemblyman Hugh A. Pomeroy of Redondo Beach who is working for legislation which will ameliorate the situation.

The advertising committee of the Chamber of Commerce is one of the most important on the entire list. It should place this city before the public at large in a truthful manner, done economically with efficiency. Much money can be wasted without effort and much advertising can be gained without too great an expenditure.

Printers' ink is the most potent factor, for, while only 100,000 people, perhaps, saw Glendale's peacock float in reality at the Pasadena Tournament of Roses, more than three million people have seen it in published pictures.

Orange show over at San Bernardino this week ought to be seen by every resident of Southern California. We are not press agenting the show, but it is one which is national in scope and truly educational.

While frost was destructive in Los Angeles county last year to the citrus crop the show will prove that Southern California goes straight ahead.

Since last July thirteen postoffices have been changed from the third class to the second class in the Twelfth federal district which includes California, Arizona and Nevada. Eleven of the changes were made in Los Angeles county, according to an official's report.

Wonder if Southern Californians appreciate how rapidly their country is growing. The whole world stands aghast and it is interesting to read Joseph Hergesheimer's "Sungates" in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

Evidently Joe has an eastern grouch at the good things here, for he is sarcastic beyond all description. Also, he musses his musings with commas and interpellations and ancient history.

As a good friend of ours once said, "You are too cynical." To which we replied, "If you look around twice you might be cynical, too." Perhaps Joe looked around twice.

The history of California truly is colorful. School students would de well to read a few chapters of California history every day. History is being made here faster than it can be recorded.

However, there is one great drawback to California history. It might instill some wicked ideas in the younger generation's mind. You know Los Angeles and San Francisco have gone through some wild and wooly times that the censor would not pass in motion pictures.

Even to this day Los Angeles and vicinity seem to have more than its share of highjackers, confidence men and second story workers. And it has some who sink to the lowest depths of depravity in deceit and double dealing.

In conversing with a high minded men of this community the other day, the remark was passed that there always is a day of reckoning, but it seems a long way off sometimes.

After all, there seems no reason why people could not live in peace and harmony if it were not for those scheming self-seekers who would rule or ruin. Summing it all up we find no reason for not thinking that life is just as sweet today as it was yesterday.

The International News Service scored a thirty-six hour news "beat" on its report of a gale sweeping the Owens river valley. The Glendale Evening News published the story on Tuesday afternoon under a San Francisco date line. Wednesday afternoon the Los Angeles newspapers featured the story. This morning's papers were still talking about it.

Readers of The Evening News will be glad to know that they get the news first. You read in our columns today that which is printed in Los Angeles the next day.

Lost Pocketbook Is Picked Up by Carrier

H. B. Hatton of 423 West Harvard street, one of Uncle Sam's mail carriers, found a pocketbook at the corner of Harvard street and Central avenue yesterday afternoon. It contains a sum of money and he would be glad to return it to the owner, if they will call at his home after 5 p. m.

EDMONDS SPEAKS AT C. E. MEETING

Enthusiasm in Approaching Convention Grows in Glendale Region

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, will be the principal speaker at Friday night's "Booster" meeting for the Glendale district of Christian Endeavorers, which is to be held in the social hall of the Central Christian church. Roy Pettit, president of the county organization, and other county officers, will be present at the gathering, the principal purpose of which is to stimulate interest among the local and nearby Endeavorers for the coming county convention, which is to be held in Pomona.

The banquet, which will precede the meeting proper, will begin at 6:30 o'clock, the tickets being fifty cents. All those who desire to attend the affair are directed to communicate with Harry Marple of 1539 North Glenwood road, president of the Glendale district.

BY-LAWS ADOPTED BY WAR MOTHERS

Lester Myer Chapter Holds Business Session in Legion Quarters

The fortnightly business meeting of the Lester Myer Chapter of the War Mothers of America was held yesterday afternoon in the American Legion hall, 610 East Broadway, with Mrs. Florence Padelford presiding. The principal business transacted was the adoption of the newly-drafted by-laws and amendments to the constitution of the organization.

Mrs. A. D. Hurd of 110 North Adams street was the only candidate initiated into the chapter during the afternoon's session.

Following a report of the hospital committee, by Mrs. Nellie Hyer, these members were appointed to serve luncheon next Wednesday at the California Veterans' Hut, 1028 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles; Mrs. N. Black, G. Stephenson and N. Hyer.

French Take Steps to Halt Threatened Revolt

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 15.—Hostility of the Germans against the French has risen to such a pitch, especially at Essen and in the industrial and mining towns in that district, that the French are rushing military preparations to meet an actual uprising, according to information from the German frontier today.

Artillery, tanks, armored cars and cavalry have been massed in a solid circle about Essen so that the French can isolate and shell the city at the first outbreak. Preparations have been completed for throwing up earth-works along the "front."

IN TOMB OF KING

LUXOR, Egypt, Feb. 15.—Examination of the outer chamber of the tomb of King Tutankamen entered its final phase today.

It Is Not Necessary

—To advertise the quality of WHITTALL RUGS, or to remind you of their acknowledged leadership. Our only trouble is to obtain enough of these much wanted rugs to supply our trade.

Therefore

—We would advise that you make a point of inspecting the shipment of Anglo-Persians just received while the selections are good.

Also

—A new shipment of the Barrymore Seamless Wilton in wonderful patterns and colorings. Remember, high grade rugs are scarce. Make your selections now.
